THE BIGGEST TRUST EVER ORGANIZED

Rockefeller, Rothschild and Nobel Alleged to Have Formed It.

AN AGREEMENT ON PETROLEUM

Combine Means a Fight to the Death With Russians and Independents.

THE CONFERENCE ON TRUSTS EXPLAINED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, July 30.—In its issue of this morning the Daily Mail declares there is no longer any doubt that the three monster oil interests of Rockefeller, Rothschild and Nobel have entered into a working agreement.

"Thus," says the paper, "without any publicity the greatest trust the world has ever seen has sprung into being."

This combination, says the paper, has been hinted at in messages from Batoum and Moscow, and it has been more clearly shown in the offers made to Russian oil explorers by representatives of the Nobel and Rothschild interests for the absorption of the whole of their output.

The exporters have been bidden to sell through the agencies of these interests at a price arranged by them or to fight the combined forces of the three oil giants. This offer was made openly and with the idea of maintaining prices, and it has been refused, the Russian exporters preferring to fight.

It was, doubtless, this combination, continues the Daily Mail, which induced the Russian government to issue invitations to an anti-trust conference.

The spokesmen of the great combine declare it means a fight to the death, and that the independent exporters cannot hope to win.

Morgan Combine's New Ally.

LONDON, July 29.—At a meeting of the Anchor line today, the chairman announced the completion of a working agreement with the Morgan shipping combine. A dividend of 5 per cent was declared.

ONE MAN KILLED AND TWO INJURED

Italian Railroad Laborers Jumped From Moving Train To Escape Injury at Temperanceville.

Three Italian laborers employed on a Panhandle work train, while returning to the city last evening, became frightened at a rolling boulder on the hillside at Temperanceville and jumped from the moving train. One was killed and the other two injured.

The dead:

PAPPALLO MASTOZA, 35 years old, of No. 1212 Poplar alley; fell under the wheels and was killed.

The injured:

MICHAEL BUSINO, 26 years old, of No. 910 Webster avenue; severe flesh wounds about the face and hands.

ANGELO PERMINO, 18 years old, of No. 910 Webster avenue, fractured thigh.

The work train on which the men were riding was coming toward the city. When approaching the Temperanceville bridge the men on the train saw a large boulder, which had become loosened by the rain, start down the steep hillside toward the railroad tracks. When Mastoza jumped out toward the hillside his body was thrown back toward the train and he rolled under the wheels. His companions also jumped in the same direction, but were only injured by being thrown violently to the ground. The injured men are at West Penn hospital.

BOY OF 14 DEFENDS HIS FATHER'S HONOR

Charles McCullom Dies from Wounds Inflicted by Jesse Hoskins—Lad Goes to Reformatory.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 29.—Charles McCullom, aged 45, died yesterday in the Miners hospital at McKendree, as a result of seven bullet wounds which he received a few days ago at the hands of Jesse Hoskins, aged 14.

McCullom was paying attentions to Jesse's mother. Last Friday Jesse's father left the house, and soon after McCullom entered. Jesse procured a revolver, threw open the door of an adjacent room, caught sight of his mother and McCullom together, and opened fire. One bullet entered McCullom's side and another penetrated his abdomen.

On the witness stand Jesse talked as if well pleased with his work. He was sent to the reform school.

SCHWAB FEELS WELL.

Air and Exercise Building Him Up and Expects in a Day or Two to Be as Good as Ever.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 29.—(Special.)—"I am feeling mighty well," said Charles M. Schwab today in reply to an inquiry concerning his condition. "In a day or two I am certain I will be as good as ever. This air and the exercise I am getting is rapidly building me up. I have not yet definitely determined when I shall return to New York, but it will be within a week. I am enjoying the rest immensely."

Mr. Schwab spent most of the day out of doors, but he did little walking. This morning he got into a rolling chair and went to the boardwalk, remaining there until time for luncheon. In the afternoon he received friends on the porch of his cottage, and later went driving with members of the family. He appeared to be in his usual health and customary good spirits.

DEFENSE OPENS IN MINERS' CASE AT CHARLESTON

Counsel Claims Gauley Mountain Injunction Partially Ineffective.

NON-UNION MEN ARE ASSAULTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Charleston, W. Va., July 29.—The government closed its testimony in the contempt cases this afternoon and two witnesses for the defense were examined.

Counsel for the miners claim that Judge Keller's injunction in behalf of the Gauley Mountain Coal Company is wholly or partially ineffective, from the fact that the company's works are partly within the town of Ansted. The injunction prohibits the miners from entering or going within close proximity to the company's property. If enforced the effect would be to prevent the miners from entering incorporated towns.

A telegram received this afternoon from Blume, Fayette county, states that a miner going to work for the Blume Coal and Coke Company was shot from ambush this morning.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 29.—Seven striking miners from Nanticoke were arraigned before Magistrate Brown of this city this afternoon charged with committing an assault on William Young, an engineer employed at one of the collieries of the Susquehanna Coal Company. While on his way to work Young claims he was held up and two of the defendants threw stones at him, one of the stones striking him on the head and inflicting a deep cut. The strikers were held in bail for trial at court.

A crowd of 1,500 men and boys prevented the resumption of work at the Wanke washery at Duryea this morning. The sheriff sent four deputies to the scene, but when they arrived the mob had dispersed.

SHENANDOAH, PA., July 29.—Thomas Tosh of this city, a lieutenant of the coal and iron police, was attacked by strikers today and compelled to seek the shelter of his home. The strikers say Tosh has been active in attempting to induce mine workers to return to the collieries. Late last night a workman, name unknown, was severely beaten by a mob.

MOUNT CARMEL, PA., July 29.—Two crowds of strikers numbering fully 3,000 collected at all the Reading and Union Company operations between here and Shamokin this evening and hurled stones and sticks at the non-union men. Six of the latter were captured by the mob near Richards colliery and were badly pummeled. On promising to remain away from the colliery until the strike ends they were liberated. Sveral scores of non-union men remained at a couple of the mines tonight afraid to face the strikers who are picketed along roads leading into town.

The company officials say they will ask for troops tomorrow if there is a continuance of the attempts to annoy the workmen.

SCALE NOT FIXED.

Window Glass Workers Fail To Reach An Agreement With Independent Glass Company.

COLUMBUS, July 29.—(Special.)—Contrary to expectations the wage committees representing the Window Glass Workers of America and the Independent Glass Company, which has been in joint conference here to consider a wage scale, adjourned tonight without reaching an agreement.

The men demanded an increase of 5 and 10 per cent for certain kinds of work, but the manufacturers refused to grant the advance, claiming that market conditions would not justify it.

As neither side would make any concessions an adjournment was taken until August 5, the date and place of meeting to be fixed later. John L. Denny of Pittsburgh, president of the workers' organization, presided over the joint conference.

HOUSE SWEPT AWAY.

Storm Does Great Damage in Greene County—Allison Railroad Bridge Is Gone.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—Greene county was again visited by a terrific storm this afternoon. The Waynesburg and Washington freight and passenger trains which leave here in the evening are both tied up four miles north of Waynesburg. South of Waynesburg the storm was very heavy, and Smith creek, which empties into Ten Mile creek, near the Waynesburg fair ground, overflowed and carried everything in its path.

The Blair tenement house occupied by William Condit, was carried from its foundation. Mrs. Condit and two children were rescued from a window less than two minutes before the building was swept away.

The Allison bridge, with several loaded cars, was swept away.

WORK OF CAMPAIGN WILL BEGIN EARLY MONDAY MORNING

At That Time State Republican Headquarters Will Be Open in Philadelphia.

BIG ARRAY OF SPEAKERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 29.—Active preparations for opening the campaign are being made by the Republican managers, though not much work of a public nature will be done for a few weeks yet. So much interest, however, has been manifested by party men through the state that it has been found advisable to open the headquarters of the Republican state committee, and, therefore, on and after next Monday the house at 1417 Locust street will be open for business, though Senator Quay, the state chairman, is up in the Maine woods.

The routine work of the headquarters will be attended to by Secretaries Wesley R. Andrews of Crawford county and Thomas H. Garvin of Delaware county, with Senator Penrose representing Chairman Quay.

Senator Penrose said today the state campaign will be opened with a big mass meeting in the Academy of Music, probably in the early part of September, though the exact date could not be fixed immediately. At that time Judge Pennypacker will make his first speech, after which he will make a tour of the state, in company with a corps of speakers as yet only partially made up.

Among those expected to take a prominent part in the speechmaking in behalf of the Republican ticket are ex-Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, Assistant Attorney General James M. Beck, Hampton L. Carson, who made the speech nominating Judge Pennypacker for governor, Attorney General John P. Elkin, Judge Pennypacker's rival for the nomination; probably ex-Gov. Daniel H. Hastings, who is now traveling in Europe, and County Treasurer J. Hampton Moore, the seconder of Judge Pennypacker's nomination, and the president of the State League of Republican clubs, which organization is expected to figure prominently in the campaign.

In addition to these well-known Pennsylvanians, Senator Penrose said the state committee expects to have the help of a number of speakers from other states, such as Senator Chauncey M. Depew, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who will speak on the national issues involved in this year's fight.

CHAMBERLAIN TO GIVE BOERS A FAIR CHANCE

Self-Government and a Respect for Their Race Traditions.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, July 29.—Mr. Chamberlain's appearance in the house of commons today, for the first time since his recent accident, was marked by a speech which won the applause even of such opponents as Henry Labouchere. Mr. Chamberlain dealt comprehensively with the past and future of South Africa.

"We have no intention," he declared, "that the Boers should break with their old traditions. We desire that they should preserve all the best characteristics of their race, and hope they will shake hands with us, thus securing prosperity in South Africa under the flag which protects different races and different religions."

That sentiment was the keynote of the speech.

Dealing with the labor question, Mr. Chamberlain said he believed every inducement to labor should be held out to the blacks, but no scheme of compulsory labor would receive the slightest government support. There is no intention of packing the country with British, but so much Transvaal land is lying idle that the colonies could only be made a great corn-producing factor by bringing in British settlers.

Mr. Chamberlain was greeted with hearty cheering and was warmly congratulated by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Liberal leader in the house. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman supplemented his congratulations by asking for information of the colonial conference. It was in reply to this question that Mr. Chamberlain spoke.

"We are not going to allow the result of the war to be undermined," said Mr. Chamberlain, "by intrigues carried on by nominally constitutional means."

Regarding the future status of South Africa the colonial secretary said the imperial government had established a crown colony in the strictest sense. The next step would be to add a nominated official element. Thereafter there would be an elected official element, and then nothing but circumstances and time would separate the new colonies from full self-government, the ultimate goal of their ambition.

MANY ARE READY TO BECOME THE MEN BEHIND THE GUNS

Naval Recruiting Station Is Having Quite a Lively Run of Applicants.

GOOD LOT OF MATERIAL

The United States navy recruiting office in the Federal building was a busy place yesterday. Officers and surgeons had their hands full answering applications and examining candidates. Up to the closing hour 18 applicants had been passed and the officers in charge were pleased with the results.

"I find we are getting a superior class of men and boys here," said Lieut. Commander J. C. Quimby, in command of the detail. "The recruits are far above the average in intelligence and skill. But there is one very particular point upon which the department calls us to strict account, and in which I find, not only here, but in other cities, the applicants are deficient—that is in size and weight.

"I am pleased with the success we have had in two days, and from the number of applications we are receiving, I feel confident that we will enroll more recruits than did the detail which was here last fall, which enlisted 50 or 60 men and boys."

Lieut. Commander Quimby and Surgeon W. M. Garton were so busy that they found it quite impossible to comply with strict navy regulations, for they were in their shirt sleeves. The warrant officers accompanying them, however, were in the natty uniforms of their rank.

The would-be recruits are from all sections of the country hereabouts. Dr. Garton found occasion to turn down few of them.

The applicants for apprentice were in several cases accompanied by their parents, guardians or some older member of the family, who was authorized to vouch for them and sign the papers.

Lieut. Commander Quimby takes all in charge after they have passed the surgeon, and after a careful inquiry into family relations, record and general fitness, turns them over to the other officers for mental examination in the minor English branches. When they are once enrolled and have signed the enlistment papers there is no withdrawal except upon application to the secretary of the navy.

TO BE BAPTIZED AND GET A WIFE BEFORE HANGING

Colored Murderer in Baltimore Determined to Right Wrongs.

JAIL WARDEN DOYLE PROMISES HIS AID

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Baltimore, Md., July 29.—John Devine, the colored murderer of Patrolman Charles Donohue of the Northwestern district, who is under sentence to be hanged on September 19, has signified his intention of being baptized and married to Mary Jones, colored, before his life is choked out at the end of a hangman's rope. Mary Jones is the woman with whom Devine was quarreling at the time Patrolman Donohue entered the house on the night of May 19 to quell the disturbance, when he met his death at the hands of the condemned man.

Devine announced to some of his fellow-prisoners today his intention of getting baptized and marrying the Jones woman. The prisoner's declaration reached the ears of Warden Doyle, who had the man brought to his office. When alone with the warden Devine said that as he had been doomed to die so soon he had reached the conclusion that his conscience would feel much easier if he righted some of the wrongs he had done. He said the main things he had in view were to be baptized and to marry Mary Jones.

Warden Doyle encouraged the man in his intentions, and said he would do everything in his power to help him arrange both events.

When seen at the jail by your correspondent, Devine said:

"Well, the marriage is a matter of conscience with me and I have not thought it over much of late until I just came to the conclusion that it would be the only thing to do. I feel as though I can wipe out at least one wrong I have done by marrying her, for we lived together for a long time as man and wife. We have talked the matter over, and she is willing to marry me. I have not decided just when the ceremony will be performed, as everything depends upon her, and any time she sets will suit me."

Warden Doyle said the marriage will take place in his office. The warden also said Devine is much elated over the step he is about to take and has changed greatly since being sentenced. During his imprisonment Mary Jones has been his only visitor, calling to see him regularly every two or three days.

Devine escaped at the time of the murder, but a few days after Patrolman Donohue died was captured near Cockeysville by a posse.

ALTOONA, PA., July 29.—During the severe electric storm early this evening Annie Smith, aged 15, was on her way home and while walking across a flooded street, accidentally stepped into a manhole.

She dropped 14 feet into the sewer, and was carried underground for fully 300 feet, when by the great force of the water, she was tossed out of a second manhole, alive, though seriously injured.

LANGDON GETS ROLLING STOCK.

Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Ebensburg & Eastern in Queer Fix.

ALTOONA, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—Samuel J. Langdon, president of the Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Ebensburg & Eastern railroad, today served a writ of replevin on the rolling stock of the railroad. He filed a bond with the court for $444,827, given by a Philadelphia Trust Company.

The service of the writ leaves the railroad in another ludicrous condition, the former owners having the road and Langdon the rolling stock. A compromise between the warring factions will have to result immediately or the road will again be shut down.

Pittsburgh Takes Big Mortgage.

SHARON, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—The Sharon Steel Hoop Company has executed a mortgage in favor of the Dollar Savings & Trust Company of Pittsburgh for $250,000. The mortgage covers additions to the plant under course of erection. The improvements amount to $500,000.

WM. J. DIEHL A POSSIBILITY FOR RECORDER

Nineteenth Ward Organization Favors the Ex-Mayor.

UNANIMOUS VOTE RESULT OF A TEST

Friends Believe That He Is Entitled to a Vindication at the Polls.

OBJECT OF THE TALK HAS LITTLE TO SAY

William J. Diehl, ex-mayor of Pittsburgh, will be a candidate to be reckoned with when the organization chooses its standard bearer in the campaign for city recorder next spring. Mayor Diehl is the choice of the organization men in the Nineteenth ward.

But it is known that the last mayor Pittsburgh had, the one who reigned at City hall when the office of mayor was abolished by ripper charter, would like to go back and exercise the powers with which the new charter has loaded the city recorder.

The Nineteenth ward committee, representing the organization in that ward, held a meeting last Saturday night, and there was a great deal of talk before the meeting concerning a candidate for city recorder. Finally it was decided to take a vote and learn what the sentiment was. The vote was taken by ballot, and it was found that Mr. Diehl had secured the unanimous support of the 45 members of the ward committee. Not a great deal was thought of it at the time, but in talking over the matter since, members of the committee have deepened their own impressions that the ward will urge earnestly upon the next city convention the choosing of Mr. Diehl for city recorder.

Mr. Diehl Is Reticent.

Harvey A. Lowry, city assessor, is chairman of the ward committee. He said yesterday: "It looks very much now as if the Nineteenth ward would have a candidate for city recorder next spring in the person of Mayor Diehl. He is very popular in the ward, and I think deservedly so. I believe he would meet the requirements of the organization."

Mr. Diehl himself is not saying much. "I do not care to discuss it," he said yesterday. "It is too early to talk of candidates. A great many things may happen between now and next spring. I would not care to go before the people at this time and say that I want the place. The position will take care of itself for a time. Later on, we will see."

Included in the membership of the Nineteenth ward committee are many warm friends of Recorder J. O. Brown. The reason he did not receive a vote when the test was taken Saturday night is that his friends know that he does not propose to be a candidate.

Work for the Citizens Ticket.

The active work of the Democrats and Citizens for the county, legislative and congressional fusion ticket has begun. At the Citizens headquarters in Third avenue a program for the appearance of the candidates on the county ticket in a body in the various districts of the county is under preparation. Tonight a meeting of the candidates and the workers of the Sixth legislative district will be held at the Third avenue headquarters. On Friday the candidates and workers will meet in the Allegheny headquarters, Kenyon's hall, in Federal street.

The fusion candidates will spend Saturday at the picnic of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics at Kennywood park. It is expected that 15,000 members of the order will be at the picnic. Next Monday evening the candidates will go to Boston, near McKeesport. They will be met by a marching club of 100 young men. The candidates will attend the Avalon street fair next week. Every Saturday the candidates, if not attending meetings elsewhere, will meet the workers at the fusion headquarters in Third avenue.

It was reported that the machine organization had bought 1,000 excursion tickets for Atlantic City, and that every machine man properly accredited could have a ticket by calling for it and proving his loyalty. The machine denies this story.

A call has been sent out for the annual district convention of the Afro-American Republican state league, to meet on Monday, August 4, at Nicholas hall, No. 82 Fulton street, to elect 30 delegates to the annual convention of the league.

Representative Ward R. Riles of Delaware county was in Pittsburgh yesterday. Mr. Riles said the entire Republican state ticket would be elected in November. Senator Penrose, he said, might have some opposition for re-election, but would win without a doubt.

Thirty boys of the clergyman's church were on a picnic at a nearby resort. Young Nodham went swimming and was seized with cramps. The minister tried to rescue him.

Rev. Mr. Leatherman was a graduate of O. W. U. at Delaware, and had formerly lived in Lima and Toledo. He was 35 years old and leaves a widow and two children.

BODY OF A WELL KNOWN MAN WAS IN LONELY SPOT

Remains of William H. Scott Discovered in the Allegheny Cemetery.

WAS SUICIDE OR MURDER

Dead Man Was Well Known Character in Bloomfield Section Who in His Day Went Through Thousands and Landed in the Gutter.

The body of William H. Scott, a well-known character in the Bloomfield district, was found yesterday in the Allegheny cemetery. A revolver lay on his breast. It was evident that the man had been dead for several days. On account of the condition of the body it was not learned last night in what part Scott shot himself.

Late last night George Hamilton, employed in the cemetery, said that the man might have been murdered and the revolver placed on the corpse to give the impression that Scott had committed suicide. Hamilton says that every Sunday men sneak into the cemetery and shoot craps in the wild portions. He thinks Scott might have been killed in one of the numerous fights that occur there.

The body was found in a part of the Allegheny cemetery in which no burials have ever been made, and where there is not a road within a half mile. It was found by Hamilton, who has charge of a gang of men repairing a fence. On Monday the men remarked a disagreeable odor and supposed it came from some dead animal. Yesterday afternoon they noticed the odor again and Hamilton started to investigate. In a clump of bushes he found the corpse. The body was sent to the morgue. In one of the coat pockets was a memorandum containing the name of William H. Scott and the number of Doughty's real estate office in Penn avenue.

Several men who had known Scott called at the morgue, and identified the body. John Wolf said he saw Scott last Friday, in the real estate office of ex-Alderman David Doughty. James Heffernan, a bartender, said that another bartender, Bernard Meenan, had told him that he saw Scott on Tuesday of last week. Scott's friends had been urging him to "brace up," and Heffernan especially talked with him several times.

Meenan met Scott on the street. The old man was then perfectly sober.

"Barney?" said Scott, "when you see me again, you'll see a new man. I am going to turn over a new leaf."

Scott worked for 15 years for the city water bureau, but about two years ago was employed in Doughty's real estate office. For weeks he had slept in an open lot in Wigebidie street.

The dead man was born in Lawrenceville about 57 years ago. His father, Andrew Scott, was a comparatively rich man and owned some valuable property. Probably no man in the city knew Scott better than ex-Alderman Doughty. According to Doughty, Scott has gone through $26,000. His wife is now in Marshalsea and an only son is a deaf mute, supposed to be at the Edgewood institution. Scott's wife came from the well-known Lawrenceville family of Kilheart. The Kilhearts owned one of the most valuable pieces of ground in Lawrenceville, between Forty-second and Forty-third streets, on the Valley road. It was willed to Sadie Kilheart, Scott's wife. Want caused her to mortgage it and it was finally knocked down at sheriff's sale.

W. S. BYERS TO ENTER SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Greensburg Attorney to Turn Tables on Prosecution in Big Missing Bond Case.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., July 29.—Attorney W. S. Byers, who is charged with the larceny of nearly $500,000 worth of securities and money, will turn the tables on the prosecution, he announces this evening. He proposes to enter suit against his uncle for damages to the extent of $100,000.

He claims that his standing as a lawyer and business man has been greatly injured, and nothing short of this large sum, which he says he knows positively his uncle has still in his possession, will repay him for the injury done.

The attorney says he is unable to fathom the meaning of the civil suit brought yesterday for $74,000 damages. He adds that a great deal of the money has been invested as was directed by his uncle. In one instance a large farm was purchased in Maryland, but it is probable, he says, that his former client has forgotten about that little incident.

John H. Dunn Goes to Alaska.

HAVE YOU A PIANO?

Perhaps You Would Like to Exchange It for a Better One—Attend Hamilton's Clearance Sale.

Do you own a piano? Does it give entire satisfaction? Is it the ideal instrument which you always desired to possess?

If you can answer all these questions in the affirmative it is not likely that you will be interested in the midsummer sale of pianos now going on at Hamilton's. But if you are sure that you would prefer a better instrument, then this sale will certainly attract you on account of the low prices.

It is a very unusual thing to be able to say that one can save from a third to a half the price of a piano, but that is exactly what is being done at Hamilton's. And everybody should keep in mind the fact that Hamilton's sell the finest pianos that are produced.

Your old piano will be accepted as part payment on a new one.

Don't waste time on a piano of indifferent quality. You may think it is cheap, but experience proves that no piano is cheap unless it is conscientiously made. By paying just a few dollars more than one of those common pianos cost you can buy a beauty at Hamilton's and have the satisfaction of knowing that it will be an inspiration for years to come.

But do not forget that Hamilton's midsummer clearance sale ends soon, as the semi-annual stock taking begins August 1.

You can buy any of the following at reduced prices:

PIANOS—New and used.
ORGANS—New and used.
ANGELUS PIANO PLAYERS—New and used.

WORKHOUSE BECOMING HOME FOR A BRADDOCK SMASHER.

Mike "Nation" was arrested in Braddock last night for the 21st time. Mike is a Slav with an unpronounceable name and came into prominence two years ago when Carrie Nation was breaking up saloons. He never heard of her, but he broke windows.

Since Mike started to go to the workhouse his longest period of liberty has been three days. The first day out of the institution he gets drunk, the second day he is fighting drunk and commits some depredation and the third day he goes up again.

Mike gets sentences of all kinds of duration, from three days in jail to six months in the workhouse. Twice he has gone there with six months sentences.

Yesterday he broke a lot of windows and then assaulted some Slav children. The parents of the children will prosecute him for assault and battery and the Braddock police charge him with disorderly conduct.

PREPARING FOR A BEEF COMBINE

AIM WILL BE TO CONTROL THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD.

President of the G. H. Hammond Company Admits That the Packers Are Canvassing the Situation With a View to Concentration of Interests.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, ILL., July 29.—Jesse P. Lyman, president of the G. H. Hammond Packing Company, tonight admitted that the big packing houses are "canvassing the situation with a view to a concentration of interests."

La Salle street financiers and stock-buyers are proceeding on the assumption that the combination is to be effected, and it was said this afternoon the scheme has developed so far that, following a meeting of the packers or their representatives in New York this week and the formation of the trust, its leaders will gather at a secret meeting, probably abroad, to devise plans for gaining control of the packing business in Europe, and finally of the world. The New York meeting, it is said, is to complete the merging of the large plants of Armour, Swift and Morris.

Color is given to this report by the fact that J. Ogden Armour is soon to arrive in Europe, and that Nelson Morris was to go abroad when his plans were interfered with by the suicide yesterday of his son-in-law, A. M. Rothschild.

At the packing houses there are said to be signs of an approaching change. Here it is declared unofficially that the agents of Swift, Armour and Morris are taking an inventory of the stock at the three plants, even down to the smallest details. The result of this work, it is believed, will be used in working out the details of the merger.

Another story is that the combine is to have a great beef-selling company, designed to reduce the expense of marketing the products from the packers, to be organized by the packers themselves, but will operate independently.

M'KEESPORT PREPARES FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Securing of the New $10,000,000 Tube Plant Is to Be Commemorated in Fitting Fashion.

A mass meeting of McKeesport citizens was held last night to make preliminary arrangements for a big celebration in honor of the new tube plant.

It was decided to make it an industrial celebration of which a huge parade will be a feature. All business places, mills and saloons are to be closed for the day. Prominent men will be invited to take part. Today special invitations will be sent to President Roosevelt and Charles M. Schwab.

It was decided to hold the celebration about September 1, in one of the parks, probably Olympia. During the evening a huge fireworks display will be given.

A committee of 20, appointed last night, will appoint sub-committees and will hold a meeting on Thursday night to make further plans. The committee is as follows: P. C. Jones, chairman; E. T. Douglass, G. G. Crawford, U. Z. Peters, T. D. Gardner, William Evans, R. E. Sconerat, J. E. Serene, Christopher Wivvag, J. K. Skelley, C. G. Falkenstein, James Weiskircher, Walter S. Abbott, R. J. Black, William Nagle, William Kaman, J. A. Beatty, Henry Hartman, Al Good and Peter Patterson.

Capt. A. B. Campbell presided over last night's meeting.

American Coal Driven Out

LONDON, July 29.—The British consul at Marseilles reports that the most interesting feature of the past year there was the inability of American coal to stay in that market under existing conditions, owing to the fall in prices of British coal. A rise in price, however, would bring American coal to the Mediterranean even under existing conditions.

CORONATION DATE OFFICIALLY FIXED

NO LONGER DOUBT KING MEANS TO BE CROWNED ON 7TH.

Now Able to Walk, and Restrictions on His Diet Almost Entirely Removed. Alarm Caused by Sinister Rumors Nearly Allayed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 29.—The latest and most reliable information indicates that King Edward's physicians were not mistaken in fixing August 9 as the date upon which the king could be crowned. The sinister rumors which have pervaded all classes for the last few days now appear to have lost that semblance of probability which made even the members of the cabinet nervous lest another postponement of the coronation might be necessary.

The apprehension has been lessened by the announcement that the king is now permitted to use his feet, and with the aid of a stick has done a little walking. Nearly all the restrictions upon the king's diet have been withdrawn.

While the king was testing his ability to walk two stalwart jackies stood at his side. After this experiment King Edward sat smoking on the deck of the royal yacht and watched the races of the small yachts off Cowes.

Those who drew inferences from the fact that the invitations to Westminster abbey were not dated have had their fears dissipated by the proclamation published in the Gazette tonight, fixing August 9 as the date for the coronation.

According to the present arrangements King Edward and Queen Alexandra will leave Cowes either August 6 or August 8 for Buckingham palace and will return to the royal yacht August 13, when the entire fleet will pass before King Edward and salute him, thus making a second naval review. After his return to the yacht the king is expected to take an extended cruise to the northward and subsequently to spend some weeks at Balmoral, where preparations for the arrival of their majesties already have been commenced.

REDS PRACTICALLY SOLD.

Terms Satisfactory and Papers Will Be Signed Soon—Brush To Remain in Baseball.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., July 29.—But for the encouragement it would afford the American league, it is believed that the sale of the Cincinnati club to a syndicate headed by August Hermann, president of the water works trustees and one of the chief lieutenants of George B. Cox, and Mayor Julius Fleischmann, would be announced today.

Besides this, there are some details to be arranged before the deal can be closed, and these caused Brush and Hermann to give out statements this afternoon to the effect that while Hermann had made a proposition to Brush, it had not yet been accepted and that an answer would be forthcoming in a few days.

Before Brush can transfer the club to the syndicate he must secure 11 per cent of the stock now held by Col. J. D. Ellison, owner of the Ohio State Journal of Columbus. It is generally understood that the terms offered are satisfactory to Brush. After the conferences today Brush went to Indianapolis.

By selling out his Cincinnati team it does not mean that John T. Brush will retire from the National league. He will, it is said, still retain his interest in the New York team, in which he owns stock to the amount of $50,000. This also means that he will still hold his official position as chairman of the National league executive board.

MAY MOVE HEADQUARTERS.

American Flint Glass Men Favor Going to Wheeling.

President Simon Burns of the older organization of the Window Glass Workers announced yesterday that the next wage scale would probably be adopted on a sliding basis. This is being done because of the prospect of the open market. The Burns organization will make a scale only with the American and the Federation of Window Glass companies, President Burns said, and on this account some of the independent concerns of the west are arranging to enter the federation selling company. The Independent Glass Company of Ohio and a wage committee of the new organization of workers have been in session at Columbus, O., for the past two days and it is generally understood that any wage agreement made will be provisional on what the other organization does later.

The American Flint Glass Workers' union is about to take a referendum vote on a proposition to move the headquarters from Pittsburgh to Wheeling. Wheeling is much favored and it may be that Pittsburgh will lose the headquarters held ever since the union was formed.

PREPARING FOR EXPO.

Railroad Men Recommend the Usual Special Rate at Monthly Meeting.

The usual reduced rates for the Pittsburgh exposition from points within a radius of about 70 miles were recommended by the Pittsburgh passenger committee at its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Duquesne. These rates are one fare for the round trip, with the addition of the admission charge to the exposition.

The low rates are to be effective on Thursdays to be chosen by the interested lines. It is thought that there will be no difficulty in these rates securing approval from the Central and Trunk Line Passenger associations, as the exposition is an established institution, for which these rates are allowed yearly.

SHIPPERS FEAR CONGESTION IS TO COME AGAIN

Troubles With Freight Are Now Worrying the Railroad Officials.

PER DIEM TOO EFFECTIVE

Motive Power and Yard Capacity Not Sufficient—Improvements Already Planned, but Work Will Require Months for Completion.

Already much worry is experienced and still more is anticipated by Pittsburgh shippers in the movement of their freight. It is feared that a repetition of the troubles of last fall is to be met this year. Annually there is a great increase in the output of the mines and mills of this district, starting in August and continuing until late in the autumn.

When this increase came last year, augmented by the abnormal conditions due to the steel strike, the railroads were unable to cope with its magnitude.

There is now evident a condition that, while less troublesome than the worst of last year, is still far worse than that which has ruled the last four months. In this period the railroad service has been much better than it was during the fall and winter.

Per Diem System Too Effective.

The "per diem" system of car charges is blamed for part of this trouble. Briefly, this system consists of the lines owning the cars charging the line using them by the day, instead of, as formerly, by mileage traversed by these cars. The purpose of this plan is to bring the cars back to the lines owning them in the shortest possible time. It was argued that the charge by days would make it undesirably costly for railroads using the cars to hold them for days on sidings out of use.

This plan has had the desired effect to an unexpected degree, it seems. It went into effect only July 1, and practically every important line in the country is in the agreement.

The yards of the railroads were built while the old mileage system was in effect. These yards were designed to take care of the number of cars that the old mileage system showed by experience would be in the yards. Since the per diem plan became effective the number of cars has so increased that there is hardly storage room for them and the making up of trains has been much hindered.

Yards Are Overcrowded With Cars.

"Our yards are simply so overcrowded that we cannot for several days yet get out from this mass of cars the ones we want," was the reply given by a transportation official of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh to the representative of one of the largest tonnage-producing concerns of Pittsburgh who was begging for more prompt attention. "Per diem has been all too effective. We have more cars than we can handle with our present yard capacity, I fear."

Shortage of cars has long been a trouble, but a surplusage of cars is a new condition in Pittsburgh.

Motive power has also suffered severely within a few months. There has been a siege of trouble from bad water, and, added to this, has come a series of wrecks and accidents that have put many engines into the shops. Without the requisite number of engines satisfactory service cannot be had.

There is relief in sight for this, however. The Baltimore & Ohio will soon start to receive an order for about 100 locomotives, of which number 50 are to come into service on the divisions operated from Pittsburgh headquarters.

Motive Power Short, But Increasing.

The Pennsylvania lines and the Pennsylvania railroad are receiving new engines from both the Baldwin and the American Locomotive companies, and it is believed that the motive power problem this fall will be much simpler than it was last year.

There has been a great deal of trouble from congestion in the classification yards of the Pennsylvania railroad at Pitcairn. The main trouble, it seems, was the inability of the Ft. Wayne and the Panhandle to furnish the engines to haul the trains when made up at these yards. On the Baltimore & Ohio there is much congestion from Braddock to the city stations.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie is making monumental efforts each Sunday to clear up the traffic that accumulates during the week. Engines from the Erie, Lake Shore and other interested lines are borrowed and still the congestion goes on.

Relief Still Months in the Future.

The Pennsylvania lines yards are, as already stated, in a bad condition. The prospects for clearing up this trouble, while bright, are not immediate. There are improvements partly completed or planned that will make a repetition of these conditions difficult in the future, but a number of months will elapse before enough of these improvements are completed to make the working of the local railroads what is desired. The new bridges of the Panhandle over the Monongahela and the Ft. Wayne over the Allegheny will not be ready for several months.

The four-tracking of the Baltimore & Ohio from Wheeling Junction to Versailles is also several months in the future. It is being detained somewhat in the councils of the boroughs through which the work must be done. It is one of the most important and most needed improvements in the district, and there is a general demand that no more than the absolutely necessary delay shall be inflicted upon this work.

Improvements Are Now Under Way.

The new line connecting the Pennsylvania railroad main line in the East End with the Allegheny Valley at Brilliant station is also many months from completion. The surveys are well under way and the rest of the work is being rushed. Last fall the main trouble of the Pennsylvania railroad was with this division.

It is believed, however, that the new system of conducting the terminals of both the Pennsylvania railroad and the Pennsylvania lines in Pittsburgh under the supervision of one man, General Superintendent R. M. Patterson, will aid much in preventing the chaos that ruled last winter.

During the past year enough of the proposed plans have been completed to help not a little in giving Pittsburgh the railroad service demanded by the first city of the world in point of freight tonnage, but, while this is appreciated, it should also be remembered that the output of the industries has grown and that the demands will be greater than ever.

RUMOR OF PURCHASE BY KAUFMANN BROS.

Pittsburgh Merchants Said to Be Trying to Secure Department Store in Philadelphia.

There is a strong rumor afloat in business circles to the effect that Kaufmann Bros. are negotiating for the purchase of a large department store in Philadelphia, controlled by Marks Bros. Much credence is given to the story in this city, although Kaufmann Brothers are reticent in speaking of the affair. A member of the firm last night absolutely refused to affirm or deny that negotiations are in progress.

"We have not a word to say in this matter at present," he said. "When there is anything to be said it shall be given out through the proper sources."

The department store in question is located at Arch and Eighth streets, Philadelphia, and is owned by William, Manuel and Ferdinand Marks. They, too, refuse to give any definite reply to questions regarding the sale. A member of the firm is quoted as saying:

"I know that rumors of a deal have been afloat for several days. I don't know where they emanated from, nor am I prepared to say that they are either false or true."

In some business quarters it is claimed that the Kaufmanns made overtures to the managers of this store two weeks ago.

ONE MAN PROSTRATED.

Rainfall Yesterday Morning Checked the Progress Toward High Temperature in This Section.

There was a difference of 6 degrees in the maximum temperature of yesterday and Monday, and as a result there was less suffering among the employes of the big mills and factories, and among the children.

Only one case of prostration was reported yesterday. An unknown man fell from exhaustion last evening in Carson street, near South Fourth. He was taken to the South Side hospital, where at a late hour he was still unconscious.

The prediction of the Washington weather bureau that yesterday would be a dry day, held good until last evening, after darkness set in, when there was a light fall of rain amounting to .05 of an inch. The mercury succeeded in reaching a maximum temperature yesterday afternoon of 80 degrees.

Weather—Fair. Wednesday, July 30, 1902.

There were thousands of strangers in this store yesterday—some of them comparative strangers, others absolute. May we hope each and all found everything so much to their liking that each and all will come again and yet again.

Wholly in the Interest of Women.

The news this morning is for women's eyes. There is not much of it, but what there is we kindly ask you to use as an index to many hundreds of like Summer bargains throughout the store.

In these times of cleaning up stocks there are so many varied broken lots that it is next to impossible to give but the gist of the news.

The very best way is to come to us for anything you want, and if it has Summer attached to it in any way you get it for the proverbial song.

The following will give you an idea of our meaning:

Silk Waists $3.50—sold for $6.—Desirable seasonable waists in China Silkin black or white, finished with hemstitching and folds. Fine Foulards in black and white. All-silk Taffeta in colors and a few blacks.

Lawn Dresses $5—sold for $10.—A very striking dress of sheer white lawn with dainty black and white embroidery and tucks on waist. Skirt finished with two embroidered panels in front and flounced; all seams catch-stitched in back. Only 8 of these.

Walking Suits $25—sold for $35 to $45.—Gray, tan, blue and black in mannish mixtures, cheviots and serges. Blouse and Norfolk Jackets, highly tailored. Assortment of sizes is broken. That's why we say $25 instead of former prices.

White Waists $1.—This is something particularly good in view of the fact that white is the embodiment of fashionable dress this season, and the further fact that these waists sold for $1.50 and $2. White lawn trimmed in many pretty ways.

Fancy Waists $1.—To be sure there are many women who will not wear colored waists. We are bravely aware of that fact. But, on the other hand, there are thousands of women who like colors. To such we have to say that these are Fisk, Clark & Flagg, the Star and other favorite makes, and that the lowest-priced waist in the lot sold for $2.50. Choice from that figure up to finest for $1.

Wash Skirts $1, $2 and $3.—These are of linen, pique and duck, and the former prices were $2, $3.50, $4 and $6. There are both walking and dress skirts, in white, black, blue and tan, and there are such effects as tucks, stitching, embroidery and insertion, and some of them are handsome in their plainness.

Brilliantine Suits $15—sold for $25 to $30.—A very few of these popular suits left—or rather suits of this popular material. The demand for Brilliantine Suits is growing more and more every day.

White Madras Shirtwaist Suits $5.—sold for $7.50.—Very fine cord Madras with a handsome design interwoven; flounce skirt and waist cut on a Fall model.

36,000 Mill-End Handkerchiefs for Women.

7c, 10c, 12½c and 15c.

About an even half the usual prices.

The last importation of the handkerchiefs came in Monday—making a total now ready for women's choosing of some thirty-six thousand.

These Mill-End Handkerchiefs went on sale last week and since then women have been buying them by the half dozen, dozen and dozens.

Nothing like the value for the prices was ever before offered. The bargain is one of those crack bargains often read about but just as often not substantiated.

Mill ends are nothing more than short pieces of perfect goods. A commercial piece of linen contains so many yards and these mill ends are what remain after the pieces have the required number of yards. The manufacturer then makes them into handkerchiefs and sells them under regular prices—for no matter how much or how little he gets for them it is all clear gain.

When our buyer was in Belfast last month he found a manufacturer who had thousands of these perfect Handkerchiefs (although made from mill ends), and he subscribed for the entire lot, and these thirty-six thousand are what remain.

There are handkerchiefs of sheer linen, heavy linen, and extra heavy linen. There are different sizes of hems—from the very narrow to the extremely wide.

And the handkerchiefs are laundered.

FIREMEN FORCED TO FIGHT HARD TWELVE HOURS

Liberty Street Fire Entails a Loss of $235,000, With $175,000 Insurance.

A VERY STUBBORN BLAZE

Entire Fire Department Was Called Out and Every Piece of Apparatus Needed—Smoke Suffocating and Explosions Added to Excitement.

It was 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, just 12 hours after box No. 42 was called, that the big Liberty street fire was struck out. The fire was a most stubborn one, but was well handled by the firemen. The loss is about $235,000, on which there is about $175,000 of insurance.

The fire broke out in the rear of the De Noon Bros. Paint and Glass Company, No. 919 Liberty street. This building and the one adjoining, No. 917, were built together and originally had openings between. These were still thought to be open by the firemen, but it so happened they had been bricked up.

On account of the construction of the buildings, and the fact that the floors had been overloaded, the fire was feared by the firemen. The fire fighters quickly got water on both in the front and rear, and, although the smoke was very dense for 30 minutes, it was thought that the fire was under control. The firemen went up on the fire escapes in the rear and found that there was no fire above the second floor. Meanwhile the fire had dropped to the cellar and was spreading there.

In the meantime, however, smoke was gathering on the floors above, held in by the iron shutters, and it also gathered in the elevator shaft. When this smoke became hot enough there was an explosion, and a number of firemen on the third floor were slightly burned. The explosion was not severe, but the fire followed and got a start on the third floor.

Entire Department Called Out.

It was then that "three twos" was sent in and two additional fire districts went hurrying to the scene. Three additional calls were made before the fire was out. Two engines were disabled. No. 19 blew out a cylinder head. As soon as possible old No. 10, a reserve engine, was working in its place. No. 11 blew out the air chamber. Old No. 3, another reserve engine, was put in its place, and after the fire the air chamber was taken from No. 3 and put on No. 11, so she was ready to go into commission again.

There never was a more stubborn fire, or one that so refused to yield to water. A conservative estimate of the water poured into the buildings is 5,000,000 gallons. For over five hours there were 15 engines pouring in the water. There was not a minute when there was a failure of water. It all came from the Highland reservoir, but as the big pumps were running to their full capacity all night, the loss of the 5,000,000 gallons was not noticed.

There were places about town, however, where the loss of water was noticed. Many of the tall office buildings depend on water for their elevators, and as the engines sucked the water from the mains the elevators would not run, or if they moved at all it was very slowly. In those same buildings the water for the lavatories was scarce until the middle of the morning, when work on the fire began to slacken.

Had to Flood the Fire Out.

The fire spread into the adjoining building occupied by Stewart Bros. & Co., wholesale dealers in boots, shoes and rubbers. It was thought by the firemen that the fire got into this building through the openings in the walls, but an examination of the building after the fire discloses the fact that the fire went through the cellar wall. In a few minutes the fire in the Stewart building was making more trouble than the one in the DeNoon building.

It was then a question of flooding the fire out. The water tower was stationed in front of the DeNoon building, and for five hours it threw a stream into the seventh floor. All of the turret wagons were put into service and for five hours there were seven big streams going in above the fourth floor. In the rear the firemen were active. They worked from the fire escape as long as they could, and then the lines were transferred to the Speer & Hollar and J. J. Porter buildings, and worked from those points.

All of the time the smoke was suffocating. It entered buildings a square from the fire and drove people out. At one time the smoke was so dense at the "Brimstone" corner, Seventh avenue and Smithfield street, that a person could not see his hand before his face, and at another time the same condition existed at Ninth street and Penn avenue.

Smoke Nearly Suffocated Firemen.

The smoke was so dense in the Speer & Hollar building, across the alley from the fire, that the firemen had to prostrate themselves on the floor so they could get a breath of air.

No. 2 engine was located at the corner of Liberty street and Garrison alley. For five hours the engineer never saw his gauge, telling the pressure on the boiler, and the only way he could tell if he had sufficient water in his boiler was by holding a finger, when he tested his gauges, to see if he got water or steam. If the former it was all right; if the latter he had to take more water. The engineer has been a fireman for 17 years, but he said Monday night was the most trying one he ever put in.

Soon after daylight there were several explosions in the cellar of DeNoon's building and when the smoke cleared away it was seen that a portion of the floors had gone down.

That there were no serious explosions of oil, turpentine or varnish is considered wonderful. There were in the cellar fully 50 barrels of the most inflammable material. Before the firemen got through there was seven feet of water in the DeNoon cellar, and on top floated barrels of explosives enough to have wrecked the square.

The Losses and the Insurance.

DeNoon Bros., stock of paints, oils, glass, etc., was valued at $100,000. They have an almost total loss. They carried $80,000 insurance, as follows: Traders $5,000; L. L. & G. $3,500; New York Underwriters, Sun, Westchester, North River, Allemannia, German Alliance, Springfield, Milwaukee Mechanics, each $2,500; Lion, Niagara, Citizens' of Missouri, and German-American, each $2,000; Western, Standard, German of Freeport, Monongahela, Orient, Ben Franklin, National Union, Fireman's Fund, Agricultural, Insurance Company of Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, Home F. & M.; Rochester German, North American of Boston, American Central, Mercantile, Lebanon, each $1,500; India Mutual, Northern New York, Farmers, each $1,250; British American, Beloise, Reliance, Reading, Teutonia, Mechanics, North German, Commerce, Firemen's of New Jersey, Scottish U. & N., National of Hartford, Caledonian and Indemnity, each $1,000.

Stewart Bros. & Co. carried a stock of $175,000. Their loss is almost total. They have insurance to the amount of $146,000, as follows: Phoenix of England, $7,500; Royal and Union Assurance, each $5,000; New York Fire, $3,500; Indemnity, National of Dublin, Pittsburgh and National Union, each $2,000; Scottish Union, Helvetia, Glens Falls, Western Assurance, Pelican, Camden, Pennsylvania Fire, Hanover, German-American of New York, Home, Merchants', National of Hartford, Western, Assurance, Agricultural, Allemannia, Achen & Munich, Thuringia, Continental, Colonial, Palatine, Orient, Norwich Union, Imperial, Svea, Niagara, Delaware, Law, Union & Crown, Philadephia Underwriters, Manchester, Aetna, Providence, Spring Garden, British American, American Fire, Commercial Union, and National Standard, each $2,500; Potomac, Pittsburgh Underwriters, Prussina National, State Fire, City Assurance, Royal and Firemen's of Newark, each $1,500; Farmers', Albany, Traders' and North American, each $1,250; Standard, Reading, German of Freeport, Manchester, British American and Albany, each $1,000.

Extent of the Other Losses.

The loss on the building is less than $20,000, and there is insurance to the amount of $40,000. The building is owned by the King heirs. The next greatest loser was S. Ewart & Co., wholesale grocers. They claim a loss of $15,000 on groceries in the cellar, in which there was six feet of water. There is insurance to the amount of $26,000 to cover it. Speer & Hollar, Penn avenue furniture dealers, are the next greatest losers. Their damage by water and smoke is $4,000. There is ample insurance.

J. J. Porter, wholesale millinery, had water in the cellar and smoke all through the building, corner of Penn avenue and Garrison alley. His loss is $3,000, amply covered by insurance. A. C. Ellis & Co., wholesale hat dealers, are the only other Penn avenue losers. Their stock is smoked to the extent of $1,000, on which there is plenty of insurance. The Standard Company, moved but a few days ago from Wood street, and bath tubs were said to be damaged to the extent of $2,500.

The loss of Graff & Co. will be about $500; they had a lot of grates wet in the cellar. Water in the cellar damaged the drygoods of W. T. Shannon & Co. to the extent of $1,000. Kirkpatrick & Co., wholesale grocers, Liberty and Ninth streets, had a water loss in the cellar of $500. All of the losers mentioned have plenty of insurance.

There were about 10 firemen injured in various ways. None were serious, and none will be absent from duty but a few days.

"THE GRAND DUCHESS" NEXT AT THE GARDEN

Duquesne's Summer Stock Opera Company to Be Heard in Offenbach's Tuneful Measures.

At Duquesne garden next week Offenbach's opera bouffe, "The Grand Duchess," will be produced by the summer stock opera company. The fact that this old favorite, seldom heard in later years, is to be sung by the popular summer entertainers at Duquesne garden, is creating no little interest. Those familiar with Offenbach's musical strains are anxious to see a first-class production of the tuneful work.

The grand duchess is a youthful ruler who comes into power with no other guidance than that of an aged chamberlain, Baron Puck, of antiquated diplomatic methods, and an equally aged and superannuated military commander, Gen. Boum. At the opening of the opera a grand review is to be held of the ducal army—a body compensating in individual valor for its numerical weakness. It numbers in its ranks a recruit who, under the name of Fritz, has already won the disfavor of his commander by enlisting the affections of a peasant girl named Wanda. Fritz makes another step in the disfavor of his commanding officer by attracting the grand duchess herself to the review of troops, as she calls him out of the ranks and enters into conversation with him.

At the end of the conversation Fritz is promoted to the post of corporal, then to that of lieutenant, and before the review is concluded he is a general and a nobleman. But his subsequent reduction to his former rank is as rapid as was his promotion, and he furnishes a great deal of fun in his efforts to conduct a military campaign as chief of the army. The love affairs of the grand duchess also furnish a large lot of amusement.

Edith Mason, the prima donna, will sing the role of the grand duchess. In this character she is likened to Lillian Russell, both as to looks and vocal work. She has frequently played this role. Thomas H. Persse will play the part of Fritz, a character with which he is familiar and one that he has essayed on frequent occasions when a member of the Castle Square opera company. Mary Carrington, another of the Duquesne garden company's charming favorites, will be given an unusual opportunity in the character of Wanda. Robert S. Pigott, the baritone, has been cast for Baron Puck, a part which will show him off to better advantage than heretofore. Eloise Bishop, W. G. Shelly and other members of the company will also be cast to advantage.

The usual strong features will be presented in the palm garden immediately after the performance of "The Grand Duchess," which will include a diversity of attractions and the mandolin quintette and orchestra.

BURGLARS HELD UP ANDREWS IN HIS CELLAR

An Allegheny Man Had a Most Exciting Experience and Was Robbed of $2,000.

A. M. Andrews of No. 3222 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, was robbed of money and valuables to the amount of nearly $2,000 Monday night.

Andrews was held up in his cellar by two masked men. He went downstairs about 10:30 o'clock, as he had been accustomed to do every night, to lock the windows and doors. His wife sat on the porch.

Andrews had scarcely touched the ground floor when the two men flashed revolvers in his face. "Shut up, and don't budge, or we'll be compelled to kill you," whispered one of them. Andrews was stunned. He realized his position and quietly submitted. One of the burglars held a revolver close to his stomach, while the other rifled his pockets, taking $150 in cash, negotiable note for $1,500, a gold watch and fob, and a diamond locket valued at $150.

They were not satisfied with what they found in his pockets, but made a desperate effort to pull a diamond ring off his finger. The ring, however, was too tight. They swore at Andrews and told him to get it off. He told them he could not, so they let it remain.

After rifling his pockets they told Andrews to call his wife downstairs, but this the man stubbornly refused to do. The burglars went out by a rear window.

The Allegheny police claim to have a clue and expect to arrest the men. Andrews lives in a neighborhood which has been infested by burglars and petty thieves of every description for several months.

The pocketbook stolen from Andrews was found yesterday afternoon, on the Watson boulevard. Forty dollars in cash had been taken, but a draft for $100 and several valuable papers were left in it. The police have a good description of one of the robbers, and expect to make an arrest shortly.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

ANOTHER MAN IS NOW HUNTED FOR THE KING KILLING

Detective Roach Went to Steubenville on Fruitless Chase for a Riverman.

FEIGHTLEY IS DETAINED

Roach Refuses to Admit He Went to Ohio After Supposed Murderer. Negro in New York Prison Is Not Murderer Silas Carter.

That the Pittsburgh police are after another man in connection with the murder of Achsah King seems fairly well established, despite denials.

In the meantime Bert Feightley, the ice man, is kept in confinement. Feightley will probably be set free today when the habeas corpus proceedings instituted in his behalf come up for a hearing.

Detective John Roach is now hunting for the man who murdered Achsah King.

Roach's Trip to Steubenville.

Roach left Pittsburgh early Monday morning and got back late that night. It was said that he had gone to Steubenville. A special telegram from Steubenville, received by The Gazette, last night, details some of Roach's movements.

It is stated that Roach went to Steubenville to find one "Joe" Allen, who answers the description of the man who was with the murdered woman and who, by the way, is said to have worked at one time as the driver of an ice wagon. According to the story told in the special, Allen was in Steubenville last Friday and made damaging admissions to some of his friends then. Allen left Steubenville on Friday, on a towboat, it was reported, after telling his brother and sister-in-law that he had killed a woman in Pittsburgh. The alleged confession is said to have reached Allen's wife, who is suing him for a divorce, and she is said to have related the story to her attorney, W. L. Medill, who notified the Pittsburgh police.

Roach was asked last night what success he had in Steubenville, and who the man was he was searching for.

"If you had been here today I would have shown him to you," said Roach. "He is my brother. My mother is not well and I went down to see my brother. He came back with me."

"Were you not after a man named Allen?" the detective was asked.

Roach Knows Several Aliens.

"I know several Aliens," he replied.

Asked if he knew "Joe" Allen, Roach said he knew a glassblower named "Jober" Allen, and that he had formerly worked with him in a glass house in Steubenville. He said, however, that he was not hunting for "Jober" Allen. One fact that Roach mentioned in connection with "Jober" Allen agrees with a statement in the special telegram. John Allen's wife, Roach said, was suing her husband for a divorce.

Referring to Feightley Superintendent McAleese said yesterday that when James F. Burke, Feightley's lawyer, asked him to release Feightley he said he would not do so. Burke said he would go into court to have the man released, and McAleese replied:

"All right, Mr. Burke. If you do we will give you battle."

According to that remark the superintendent will oppose the release of Feightley. McAleese does not say that Feightley is the murderer, but he insists that he has ample grounds on which to hold the man. If Feightley cannot be held on the charge of suspicion, another charge of being accessory before or after the fact may be brought against him, the police believing that he knows the man who would be most likely to murder Achsah King.

At any rate, McAleese is positive the murderer will be caught. "If we have not already got him—and by that I do not mean to say that Feightley is the murderer—we will surely get him," he said.

It Was Not Silas Carter.

The hopes of the Pittsburgh police that they had at last caught an escaped murderer were dashed to earth again yesterday. They believed that Silas Carter, the murderer of Policeman John Sheehy, was imprisoned in a New York prison, and so confident were they that Philip Demmel, superintendent of the bureau of detectives, went on to New York to bring him back, taking with him Deputy Warden Samuel Smith of the county jail, who knows Carter well. Yesterday Demmel telegraphed to McAleese: "It is not the man."

If Smith says the negro imprisoned in New York is not Silas Carter, then the knowledge is exact, for Smith has known Carter for 10 years, and recently, when Smith had charge of a gang of jail prisoners engaged in whitewashing the prison, he saw Carter a dozen times a day.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Lecturer on Municipal Reform Says, Don't Nominate Your Best Men.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 29.—(Special.)—The subject of today's conference on "Municipal Progress" was "Municipal Patriotism." The principal address was given by Benjamin S. Dean. He said the "best citizen" usually makes the poorest kind of officeholder.

"A community is known by the council it keeps in office, by the standard of integrity, morality and worth which it demands in filling the most important station," said the speaker, "but you may have a very corrupt and vicious council in a community in which there is a correct moral and intellectual tone in the individual citizen, but which he has confined to the private affairs of his daily life. Right here is the great problem in municipal reform, how to make the private virtues of the citizen available in the public. Until we create a condition of public mind where it will no longer be respectable for a man of attainments to proclaim that he does not mingle in politics, we shall see no real reform.

"Few of us are members of a common council, few of us, perhaps, ought to be. It is doubtful if there are half a dozen at Chautauqua who would be performing their highest duty by their municipality in accepting office, for most of you are in advance of the ideas of your several communities.

"If the standard of municipal patriotism is low, do not put forward one of these 'best men' for the office of mayor. First, because he will be defeated; second, if he should happen to be elected, he would be surrounded by conditions which would make it impossible for him to accomplish the reforms which you think should be made."

GRIEVANCES OF HILL TOP PEOPLE GIVEN AN AIRING

Crusade Against Monongahela and Chartiers Water Companies.

VERY STRONG INDICTMENT

Mass Meeting to Be Held at Which Sufferers from Surrounding Boroughs Will Be Asked to Be Present and Take Action.

The Hilltop board of trade held a special meeting last night in the office of Alderman Alexander Black of the Thirty-first ward and laid plans for a vigorous fight on the water question. The meeting was called for this purpose and the members present were all of one mind. The companies concerned are the Monongahela and Chartiers, and steps were taken to get all the patrons of both corporations to take part in the movement.

The grievances of the people as seen by the board of trade were set forth in seven paragraphs, as follows:

First. Dirty, disgusting, unsanitary and impure water.

Second. Frequent inadequate supply and often none whatever.

Third. Frequent shutting off of the supply without notice to patrons.

Fourth. Discrimination in rates.

Fifth. Discourteous treatment of patrons by the officials of the water company and the manifest indifference to the rights, comfort, health and necessities of the consumer by the company.

Sixth. Bringing of suits at law in great numbers to compel payment of water rents in advance.

Seventh. The assumption of power beyond their rights under the law and the using of such usurped authority in oppressing the people.

These grievances were approved as the preamble to a resolution which pledged the board of trade to continue a vigorous warfare until the rights of the people are secured. In order to get the sentiment of the public it was decided to hold a public mass meeting on some Saturday afternoon in August in McKinley park and invite the water consumers of the South Side, the Hill Top, Sheraden, Ingram, Crafton, McKees Rocks, Carnegie and adjacent territory to be present.

In order to make the meeting more attractive there will be an ox roast and athletic sports in addition to the speeches in which the water question will be discussed.

DON'T GET IN A SWEAT

Perspiration—"sweat" is what the Bible and we common people call it—is a way nature has of driving out of the body refuse that has no business there. We sweat more in summer, because, in the overheated bowels, undigested food ferments more quickly than in winter and produces irritating acids and gases. The bowels, overworked, try to relieve themselves by violent convulsions, causing terrible gripes and colics, and diarrhoeal discharges so acid as to make you sore, and leaving the intestines weak and worn out. Nature assists body-cleaning by sending the filth out through the pores of the skin. It is not safe to stop perspiring altogether but most of the impure matter should be sent out by natural movements of the bowels, and the offensive, ill-smelling, linen-staining sweat done away with. Keep your bowels strong all summer with the pleasant, candy cathartic CASCARETS, that clean the system and don't allow the excrement to be sweated out through the pores. Take a tablet every night, before going to bed. They work while you sleep and make you feel fine and cool all day.

MAY BRING MORE SAFETY FOR THE MINE WORKERS

Chief Roderick Says the Inspectors' Conference May Do Some Good.

PINS MYSTERY TO METHOD

Declares That No Effort Is Being Made to Have Pennsylvania Mining Laws Amended—Conference Discussing Johnstown Disaster.

"We expect this conference to bring about some good for the mine inspectors, and possibly more safety to the men in the mines," said James E. Roderick, chief of the Pennsylvania state bureau of mines, after a meeting yesterday with 12 mine inspectors of the state.

"Does that mean that you will suggest amendments to the existing mining laws?" was asked.

"It does not—that is not within our province. We are simply mining inspectors acting under the law. It is the business of other people to alter the law; ours to carry it out. Our meeting is a sort of close Baptist affair. It is one of those meetings which are held now and then when the occasion suggests it.

"My intention had been to hold the meeting about two weeks later than this, but contingencies arose which suggested the meeting here at this time. Of course we are considering the Johnstown disaster, but that is not the occasion of our meeting. We can do nothing in relation to the accident. That was the work of the coroner's jury."

Evans Told of Johnstown Disaster.

The mine inspectors held three meetings yesterday at the Monongahela house. J. T. Evans, inspector in the district including Johnstown, made a detailed report on it. This was done, Chief Roderick said, for the benefit of the mine inspectors who were not at Johnstown during the period of investigation which followed the disaster.

The report of Evans, Chief Roderick said afterward, was simply what he had given the coroner's jury, with the addition of matter of particular interest to the state mine inspectors.

Evans in his statement to the mine inspectors declared, just as the coroner's jury found, that one or two men had carried open lamps into the dangerous region of the mine. He said that blasts had been made the day before, but that it was proven that it was not the immediate effect of a blast which brought the explosion. This was said to be proven by the coal of the last blasts having been taken away.

In discussing these matters Chief Roderick said: "Evans' report simply showed what had been given to the coroner's jury. The Rolling Mill mine was not one of the extremely dangerous workings. It was regarded as comparatively safe. There were sections of the mine where gas was known to exist and where the miners were supposed to work only with safety lamps.

Business of the Fire Boss.

"According to law it is the business of the fire boss to determine the dangerous sections and the business of the mine foreman to see that the men carry safety lamps. The law provides that the safety lamp must be carried in gaseous mines, but it is not absolutely clear that all the miners in such a working must carry the safety lamp. Our interpretation is that in the portions of the mine that the fire boss designates as safe, open lamps may be carried.

"This mine was not nearly as dangerous as many that are now operating in the Connellsville field. The experts and superintendents of these mines may have prevented accidents for many years, but if one of the miners should venture into the dangerous portions with a naked lamp there would not be one left to tell the story.

"Our meeting is not a regular meeting, but at the same time there is nothing of especial significance about it. It is simply one of the meetings which we hold now and then.

Meetings Are Secret Ones.

"It is a close meeting and no attendant will tell what has been transpiring. I can only say that we hope to bring about some good to the mine inspectors and possibly more safety for the miners, but we are not drafting amendments to the present mining laws, nor are we suggesting any."

Asked as to a report that overhead blasting at Cambria had made the mine more dangerous, Chief Roderick laughed as he said that that is hardly true. "Any kind of blasting may produce more or less gas," he said. "The evidence secured by the coroner of Cambria county showed that blasts had been made in the region of the explosion the day before, but it was also certain that the coal loosened by these blasts had been loaded and carried away and that these blasts could not have brought the explosion."

Taken to Fresh Air Home.

A large party of children, and mothers with delicate babies, was yesterday taken to the Fresh Air home at Glenfield by Miss E. W. Hoag and Mrs. I. M. Glenn. The party will remain for 12 days. The home can accommodate 100 women and children at each outing, but as the applications are so numerous many have had to be denied for a lack of room. On August 12 and 26 the colored mothers and children will be taken down for an outing. Applications are received by the secretary at No. 610 Arch street, Allegheny, on Wednesday afternoons. To carry on the work funds are greatly needed and will be received by Miss Emma Forsythe, No. 1101 Western avenue, Allegheny, and by Mrs. J. S. Scott, No. 5552 Perryville avenue, Allegheny.

Society.

FIFTY free kindergartens in 10 years. This is the aim of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association. The association was organized November 30, 1892, and next November, when the 10 years are completed, the managers hope to be able to report 50 free kindergartens established in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and the suburbs.

The association now has 45 schools under its supervision. Three new ones will be opened the first week in September, and the association has requests from two other local school boards to establish kindergartens in their districts. So if the money required to support these last two schools is forthcoming the kindergarten association will see its hope fulfilled.

On the first Monday in September a new kindergarten will be opened in the Osceola public school building and on the same day another will be established in the Peebles school. In Allegheny a new kindergarten school is to be established in the Second ward school. Requests have been received from the Sterrett and the Belmar school boards to open kindergartens in those schools, but the association has no money to meet the request.

A proposition was made to the directors of the Belmar school, the handsome new school building recently completed in the Belmar district in Homewood, to the effect that the association would establish a school there if the school directors would pay the salaries of the teachers until next February. This same proposition was made to the directors of the Osceola school, and they have agreed to pay the salaries of the teachers until February, when the association will ask for an increase in appropriation from the central board of education.

The Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association was incorporated April 30, 1894, and very soon began to receive an appropriation from the central board of education. Two years ago that appropriation was increased from $18,000 to $25,000 and this winter another increase will be asked for because of the need of several additional kindergarten schools, which cannot be opened until there is more money available for the payment of salaries.

From the board of school controllers of Allegheny, the association receives $650 per year for every kindergarten established. This does not pay the expenses of a school by about $350, for it requires at least $1,000 for the yearly support of a free kindergarten. The association requires of each school board asking for a kindergarten the expense of establishing the school and the providing of a room properly equipped for the work, the association only guaranteeing the payment of salaries and the purchase of materials used after the school is opened.

The officers of the free kindergarten association are Mrs. William A. Herron, president; Miss S. R. H. Killikelly, Mrs. S. Travis Adams, Mrs. John M. Patterson and Mrs. W. K. Gillespie, vice-presidents; Mrs. Elizabeth B. O'Neil, recording secretary; Mrs. W. H. Adams, assistant secretary; Mrs. James I. Buchanan, treasurer, and James R. Mellon, general treasurer.

Whereabouts of Kindergarteners.

Miss Georgia Allison, supervisor of the kindergartens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and superintendent of the Kindergarten college, is spending the summer at her home in Decorah, Ia. Miss Allison will return to Pittsburgh in time for the opening of the schools on Monday, September 1.

Miss Elizabeth Culp, principal of the Kindergarten college, is in Kentucky, at her home near Louisville.

Miss Ruth Tappan, one of the newer members of the faculty of the Kindergarten college, is at her home in Potsdam, N. Y. This year Miss Tappan will be assisted in her lectures before the mother classes by Miss Blanche H. Boardman, who last year was connected with the South Highland Auditertum kindergarten, now known by the name of the Chatham school.

Miss Alice K. Snyder has been in Uniontown for some weeks, but has returned to Pittsburgh and will soon leave for a short trip. Miss Snyder has charge of the music department.

Miss Mary E. Schwarberg, who conducts the science classes at the Kindergarten college, is at Cornell university this summer taking a special course of study.

Miss Ida Smith, in charge of the art department, has been at Cambridge Springs for a few weeks, where she has been sketching.

Mrs. M. E. Van Wagonen, supervisor of drawing in the Pittsburgh public schools, and one of the lecturers at the Kindergarten college for the coming year on "Work With Hand in the Primary Grades," is taking a summer course of study at Columbia university, New York city.

The Kindergarten college is deserted these summer days by all but the bookkeeper, Miss Weckerle, who leaves next week for a two weeks' visit to Sparrow Lake, Canada.

People Here and There.

Mrs. T. DeWitt Talmage and her daughter, Miss Rebekah Collier, who were in Pittsburgh visiting Mrs. James R. Mellon and Mrs. James L. McCutcheon last week, have gone to Atlantic City.

Willis F. McCook and his daughters, Miss Katherine McCook and Miss Eleanor McCook, sailed yesterday on the Kronprinz Wilhelm for Germany. Mr. and Mrs. James Howard Park were fellow passengers.

Mrs. George B. Hill of Allegheny, Miss Margaret McKown of Oakland and Miss Gertrude R. Scott of Sewickley, also sailed yesterday on the Kronprinz Wilhelm.

Mrs H. Huffstot, Mrs. Brecty and Miss Adeline Huffstot of Detroit, Mich., are guests of Mrs. R. L. Martin and Miss E. B. Martin. They are on their way to St. Louis, Mo., where they will make their future home.

Reception for Brides.

A large reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Eccles last evening, in honor of three recent brides, Mrs. Harvey G. Eccles (nee Miss Emma McCormick of Enslow), wife of their only son; Mrs. Robert H. Conway, Jr., (nee Miss Ineg M. Vogel of Pittsburgh), and Mrs. James Elmer Conway (nee Miss Della L. Thompson of Monessen), the wives of two of their nephews. The reception was held at their residence in Eccles street, South Side, from 8 to 10. The windows were thrown open and the large porch, which semi-circles the house, and the lawn, were artistically decorated. The reception was given for the purpose of introducing the young brides to the large circle of friends.

Nervous?

Easily discouraged? Things look dark? Can't sleep well? Restless and worn out? "Nervous exhaustion," your doctor says. Ask him if he knows of a better nerve-tonic than Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Sixty years of success. $1.00. All druggists.

One great cause of nervousness is constipation. Impurities that should be removed from the system are absorbed into it. One of Ayer's Pills each night, just one, will keep the liver and bowels in a healthy condition.

AN IMPORTANT BUREAU IS THREE YEARS BEHIND

Great Stack of New Street and Sewer Work for Construction Bureau.

HOW FORCE IS CRIPPLED

It Is Likely That Contingent Fund Will Have to Be Drawn On to Help Construction Bureau Out of an Embarrassing Situation.

The bureau of construction, department of public works, is three years behind in its work. In case not another street or sewer improvement ordinance is passed for three years that bureau has work enough to keep it busy all of that time. The bureau's appropriation is short and is daily being shortened. The bureau has now scarcely enough money to keep it going until December 1. The working force of the bureau is being crippled by the discharge of men, when there are not enough men on duty now to get out the work.

City councils pay more attention to street and sewer work than anything else. If there is anything that makes a councilman solid with the people in his ward it is his ability to get public improvements in his particular section of the city at the expense of the other 37 wards.

Many of the street and sewer improvements do not cost the city anything for the actual work. Yet the grade must be established by the bureau of engineering, under the direction of W. R. Brown, who is known as city engineer, and who is superintendent of the bureau of engineering. The plans for the improvement, and for the opening of the street, are made in the bureau of construction under the direction of Frank Schwartz, who is superintendent of that bureau.

How the Work Has Piled Up.

Plans, profiles and blue prints for every street and sewer improvement must go through the construction bureau. When councils get busy in the matter of passing street improvement ordinances, and they have been very busy in that direction during the past three years, the work for the bureau of construction is piled up almost mountain high. Where councils pass one general ordinance they pass 50 special ones for street and sewer improvements. This means more work and more expense in the bureau of construction.

It was known early last spring that the appropriation made in February for the bureau of construction would not be sufficient. Notwithstanding this condition, when Controller John R. Larkin, on May 10, stopped all outlay from the filtration fund, the filtration employes were placed on the bureau of construction payroll, and they have gone on drawing $2,000 a month and further dissipating the fund.

Some move will be made shortly after councils resumes business in September, to transfer some money from some other fund to the construction fund, to keep up the work of the bureau. Controller Larkin will be heard from in the matter, although he has really no authority to stop it.

Contingent Fund to Be Drawn On.

It is probable that the contingent fund, which still has a few thousand dollars left in it, despite the heavy inroads made on it by the bureau of health, will be the one that will be attacked.

There was a great deal of criticism from the machine when the reform members of common council, at the last meeting, refused to suspend the rules to pass a number of ordinances for street and sewer improvements. These ordinances are supposed to go through the construction bureau according to the dates when they are approved by the city recorder. For that reason, it makes little difference whether these ordinances are passed this year or next year; it will be impossible for the bureau of construction to get at them for about three years to come, as matters are now progressing.

As stated, the department of public works has evolved a plan for saving some money in the construction bureau by discharging a number of men. This, of course, eases the strain on the appropriation; but it also throws the bureau farther behind in its work. The matter will be taken up in earnest this fall, and some plan will be determined on to help out on the work of that bureau.

The railroad company objected to the widening, claiming it would damage their tracks which are on a hill overlooking the street. The street is but 15 feet wide at some points and causes considerable inconvenience to the residents.

PERSONALS.

"In the middle west—that is, from Pittsburgh west—the independent telephone companies have now a greater mileage than the Bell companies," said W. E. Doolittle, president of the Sterling Telephone Company of Lafayette, Ind., at Union station last evening. Mr. Doolittle was one of three independent telephone men who were returning to their headquarters in the west, after a month in the east attending the convention of telephone men and looking after business matters. The others in the party were Charles W. Stiger, general manager of the Stromberg-Carlson Telephone Manufacturing Company of Chicago, and Harry Daugistel, superintendent of construction of the company, which is putting telephones in the towns of Rock Island and Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Ia. "The growth of the independent telephone movement has been especially marked in the past few years," said Mr. Doolittle. "At present almost all the larger cities are reached by them and fights are now on for entry into Cincinnati, Chicago, Denver and Kansas City. There is no doubt that they will win their fights in those cities, despite the opposition of the Bell companies. A movement to amalgamate all the independent companies into a combination as strong as the Bell combination is now on and will, unless something unforeseen happens, go through all right. It is the logical outcome of the situation. In many sections it has already been carried forward to a large extent."

Oscar G. Murray, vice president in charge of traffic of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh in conference with the Pittsburgh freight officials of the company. With him was J. A. Murray, general coal and coke agent of the system. Those attending from Pittsburgh were General Freight Agent L. Rush Brockenbrough, Division Freight Agent H. M. Mathews, Commercial Agent T. J. Walters and Coal and Coke Agent W. L. Andrews.

A party of Pennsylvania railroad officials reached Pittsburgh yesterday on their monthly inspection of the tracks. The night was spent here and today the trip will be made back to the east. In the party were Joseph T. Richards, engineer of maintenance of way; J. B. Baker, superintendent of the Frederick division; L. W. Allibone, superintendent of the Cambria & Clearfield division; Victor Wierman, superintendent of the Belvidere division, and James Buckelew, assistant engineer of the Pittsburgh division. This trip is one of the 12 made during the year, upon which the award of prizes for excellence of track is based in October.

"It is the delay in receiving bridge material and rails which is holding back the completion of the McKeesport, Connellsville & Youghiogheny electric line," said A. L. Totten of Connellsville, chief engineer of that road at the Monongahela last evening. "We expected the bridge company to supply us with the material in March. Now it is promised within the next 10 days. With that delivered the work will be rushed. I do not believe it can be finished in 60 days, but it will be completed as soon as possible after that time."

Mrs. H. O. Winters, wife of Capt. H. O. Winters, who is at Newell's hotel, stopped off yesterday on her way from the west to Atlantic City. Capt. Winters is the representative of Benj. C. Warnick & Co., bond dealers of Philadelphia, who are financing the dredging proposition of O. T. Switzer in British Columbia. Capt. Winters is a graduate of Annapolis and resigned from the service to command a Chinese war vessel during the famous sea battle between China and Japan, in which Capt. P. N. McGiffin was so horribly mutilated. Capt. Winters brought Capt. McGiffin's body home to Washington, Pa., where it was interred. Capt. Winters has had a remarkably adventurous career, having assisted the United States army and navy in the operations in Cuba during the Spanish war.

Harry Jordan of Allegheny sailed for England last Saturday, where he will spend three months in visiting relatives, and renewing friendships of his boyhood days. Mr. Jordan has been a resident of Allegheny for the past 50 years.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1902.

TWELVE PAGES.

Revenue from One Source.

Though none of Controller Larkin's revenue ordinances have been passed by councils, money is coming from at least one source included in those measures. Receipts from private switches have been greater since early spring than during all of last year. The switches are for the convenience of reputable business men, willing to pay if their neighbors have to do the same, so it is found to be worth something just to have an earnest official on guard. Other revenues contemplated by the pending ordinances, however, will not come as easily. They can be had when the ordinances are passed and strictly enforced. That should be soon.

A Futile Attempt.

Democratic papers are "featuring" the open letter of Carl Schurz and his fellow aunties as though it contained something new and startling, and as though its conclusions were the verdict of a court of competent jurisdiction, instead of being merely a restatement of opinions which the signers were known to hold, and exaggerating matters of which the country has full knowledge, and upon which army authorities have taken proper action.

Of course, all this solicitude for the Filipino is not disinterested. The hope of the Democratic organs is to make political capital. They like to hear the aunties scold the army and the administration, because they think some good for the Democratic party may come of it. The voters of the United States are not deceived, however. They never took kindly to abuse of an army which is composed of men from their own families, and they will attach the proper value to the present attempt to benefit the Democratic party at the expense of the men who have maintained the honor of the United States in lands beyond the sea.

Ma[illegible] Reach the Same Point.

James [illegible] Roderick, chief of the bureau of mines, replying to the question whether he or the mine inspectors attached to the bureau might suggest amendments to the mining laws, is reported to have said: "That is not within our province" or words to that effect. Surely Mr. Roderick could not have meant exactly that. It is customary for executive officials to make pertinent suggestions in their reports, and while the head of a bureau may not recommend the enactment of a specific law, he may make his inferences so broad that the head of his department will pass them up to the chief executive, who ordinarily does recommend legislation. The primary duty of a mine inspector is to inspect mines in his district, report neglect of the laws to his chief, and make recommendations to mine managements. But as experts it is within their province to bring needed measures to the attention of their superiors and the notice of the public.

Pennsylvania's Low Death Rate.

Pennsylvania must be a fairly good state to live in, because statistics show that its inhabitants are reluctant to die. They put off their demise as long as possible, and their efforts in this direction are extremely successful, as is shown by the death rate, which has lately been computed as 12.56 in the 1,000. The death rate of Ohio is the same, showing a continuation of healthy conditions westward. Eastwardly it is different, for the death rate of New York and New Jersey is 20 in the 1,000. Maryland and Delaware report a death rate of 18.20, and the same rate prevails approximately in the south.

The lowest death rate in the United States is in the northwest—the section from Iowa and Minnesota to the Pacific ocean—where it averages as low as 8.26 deaths to every 1,000 of the population. In these newer states, however, there is a much larger proportion of young men who have gone west to grow up with the country, and a correspondingly smaller proportion of old men than in the eastern states. The low death rate, therefore, does not necessarily indicate a more salubrious climate than Pennsylvania's.

Pittsburgh's Supremacy Explained.

In endeavoring to account for the industrial supremacy of Pittsburgh the Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post fails, as anyone will who endeavors to give the credit for it to anything but the brains and enterprise of Pittsburgh manufacturers. In crediting the Pennsylvania railroad management with it he goes wide of the truth. The facts are quite the contrary. Pittsburgh has much more to do with the prosperity of the Pennsylvania railroad than the railroad has to do with the prosperity of Pittsburgh. It has been a long standing complaint that the railroads serving Pittsburgh have failed to measure up to the requirements of the tonnage originating here. Careful investigation has shown that Pittsburgh has had no favors, but has been compelled to fight for its rights. If there has been discrimination it has not been in favor of this city. Pittsburgh has prospered in spite of railroad policies and not because of them. The old South Penn railroad project, for example, was born of the injustice Pittsburgh suffered at the hands of the railroads, and if a more modern instance is wanted we can point to the building of the Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad to bring ore from the lakes to the mills of this city. It may be also asked, is the Wabash railroad working its way into Pittsburgh and paying high prices for terminals and rights of way because railroad freight rates are lower here than at other points? Were the statement of the Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post well founded, the Gould interests, instead of endeavoring to compete with the strongly intrenched Pennsylvania railroad, would keep as far away as possible.

It is no new thing to be told that Pittsburgh is not the logical economic center for the assembly of raw materials to be worked into finished forms. Nevertheless, Pittsburgh continues to be the actual center, pulsating with industrial life and growing and expanding with prosperity. If the logical center is the lake region, there has been no barrier to capital, which is always seeking a field of enterprise, finding employment there in the transformation of the ores of the Lake Superior region into commercial shapes. There are railroads in no sense dependent on the Pennsylvania railroad that would be glad to co-operate for the development of traffic on the lake shore by giving new industries as favorable terms for transportation as any the Pennsylvania railroad is willing to give the manufacturers of this region.

The fact is that the railroads serving Pittsburgh have been a check on the city's industrial and commercial development through the inadequacy of their facilities. Pittsburgh has been a constant surprise to them, and this is due to the progressive spirit of the captains of industry who have applied their brains to the industrial growth of the region. They have not been favored in railroad rates, but on the contrary have been compelled in times past to fight as hard for fair freight charges as for adequate facilities for handling incoming and outbound traffic. They have had no better rates than have been given elsewhere, and not always as good. In accounting, therefore, for the industrial supremacy of Pittsburgh the New York Post's correspondent will have to find other reasons than those he has given. He may penetrate the secret in Pittsburgh, but it is plain he cannot do so at Washington.

Millions of dollars are being spent in the Pittsburgh region for the extension and improvement of old plants and the building of new. The United States Steel Corporation, which is under no necessity to confine its operations to this vicinity, is to spend $10,000,000 in McKeesport and other millions in other places. Rivals of the Pennsylvania railroad would be glad to assure it any rates that road will give to have it locate works on their lines. The Jones & Laughlins Steel Company has spent millions and will spend more. Other concerns are making similar large investments. Concerns in rivalry with each other are establishing themselves here and nearby. It is inconceivable that all this wealth would be risked on the will or power of the president or board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad to give better freight rates than those prevailing elsewhere or that could be obtained. Investments of millions of dollars are not made by hard-headed business men on so unsubstantial a foundation as the whim or wish of the president or managers of one railroad, great or small. The present disposition of the railroads centering here is to be fair to Pittsburgh and nothing more. This is all Pittsburgh asks and all it has ever asked. It is all it needs.

It is noteworthy that in asserting that Pittsburgh is given a better freight rate than is given other cities he confines himself to a general statement, not citing one specific instance of discrimination in this city's favor. Generalizations are easily made, but to pass current they must be based on ascertained facts.

Considering Gen. Bragg's Case.

Although President Roosevelt has not yet announced his intentions in regard to Gen. Bragg's case, the papers are in his possession, and official circles in Washington are inclined to the belief that the Wisconsin ready-letter writer will have to give place to someone who can act as consul general at Havana without injuring the sensibilities of the Cubans.

It is clear that Gen. Bragg's usefulness in Cuba is at an end, and that a change is desirable. Officials at Washington expect that the change will be made by the transfer of Gen. Bragg to another consular post. But it does not seem at all necessary to provide another place for him. He has had his chance and he has disappointed his friends. Moreover, there are enough Republicans to go round among the offices, and there is no pressing necessity to give even a gold Democrat more than one opportunity.

The Republican party is glad of whatever assistance came from the Democrats in the campaign for sound money. This aid was rendered for the country's good and without hope of political gain. They have their reward in the satisfaction of having done right, and in the measure of prosperity that is theirs as a result of the Republican sound money policy. Gen. Bragg should be allowed to retire to Fond du Lac.

Bryan's Good Work.

Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional campaign committee estimates W. J. Bryan at his true value. The work the Nebraskan has been doing is worth more to Chairman Babcock's cause than that of any four or five orators Mr. Babcock could have selected from his own party. Bryan carrying the flag of Popocracy up and down New England is an instructive spectacle to those voters who were beginning to hope for the restoration of sound money and reason in the Democratic party.

The Republican majority in congress is somewhat indebted to those who were "sound money Democrats" in 1896, but who have become Republicans in pretty good standing as a result of repeated free silver campaigns. There was a possibility a month ago that some of these might be coaxed away by Cleveland and Hill. Mr. Bryan has put an end to all that. He has settled it definitely that Populism is still the dominant factor in what is called the Democratic party, and that safety lies only within the Republican bulwarks. There the "old line" Democrats will stay.

Civil Service Reform.

In the current number of Good Government, published by the National Civil Service Reform league, there is an article on "The Pennsylvania Situation." Referring to the late primary campaign, the article says:

> The unexpected strength of Attorney-General Elkin after Quay had declared against him was due to the support given him by the state administration, which did not scruple to use every bit of patronage at its disposal for the accomplishment of its ends. Moreover, the extensive powers of the "ripper" legislation, especially in Allegheny and Pittsburgh, were utilized to the same ends. Officers and clerks, high and low were ordered to support Elkin at the risk of their official lives and in Pittsburgh and Allegheny the employes who did not obey the recorders appointed by the governor were dismissed and the recorders themselves had to turn in for Elkin or run the risk of dismissal.

This is declared to be an intolerable condition of affairs, and the writer appeals to the voters of Pennsylvania to pledge candidates for the legislature to enact laws that will prohibit the degradation of the public service to base uses of ambitious politicians. He finds encouragement in the "fact that the Republicans have nominated Judge Pennypacker, who is known of old as an advocate of the merit system."

All of this The Gazette heartily commends. Faithful public servants should be protected in the tenure of their positions and it is highly derogatory to the public service to have them subject to the will of unscrupulous men. The exhibition made by Gov. Stone in the state, together with the "yellow book" disclosures in this city, should give the civil service reformers more than enough material for argument.

The remark of the New York World that "Prosperity is not all" is a Democratic acknowledgment that there is such a thing as prosperity and that we have it. It was a favorite expression of Mr. Bryan's in the last campaign, that "Prosperity, like the milk sickness, is always in the next country." Democrats have ceased to deny that prosperity exists.

Of course, Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco will act as referee in the debate concerning the nature of the recent prize fight. That's the kind of a mayor Schmitz is.

How Pelee Was Set Off.

From the Philadelphia Times.

The Mont Pelee disaster was taken as a text by one of the evening papers at a recent nearby camp meeting of negro Zionites. He explained that the eruption was a rebuke to the greed of mankind along the following lines:

"De earf, my fr'en's, rasolves on axels, as we all know. Som'fin' such ahr needed to keep 'em axles greased, so de good Lawd, in His wisdom an' fo'sight, put lots ub petrolyum in de bowels ub de earf for dat purpose. De Stan'ard Oil Comp'ny comes along an 'strax dat petrolyum by borin' holes in de earf. De earf sticks on its axels an' won't go 'round no more. Dere is a hot box, jus' as tho' de earf wuz a big railroad train—an' then, my fr'en's, dere am trubble."

BUSINESS AUTOS OF WEIRD DESIGN

Trunk, Bottle, Pickle, Shoe, Hat, Coat and Vest, Move Without Visible Aid.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 29.

Automobiles are becoming more and more common in New York. For a year or more the passenger vehicle in all kinds of designs has been so usual a sight uptown that no one looks at it a second time nowadays. The use of the horseless carriage for business purposes has been no less general for the last six months, and now the fad is to make the wagon in the shape of the article advertised. There is nothing new in this with horse-power traction, but it is a novelty in horseless carriages. Today, for instance, a gigantic trunk glided smoothly up Broadway with no living creature in view on or near it. Without horses it appeared also to be without a driver. This functionary was there, however, sitting in a little cage near the front, and he was busy with his levers and brakes, just as if he had been in the open. There is a big bottle which wanders about town like a fugitive belfry, and an enormous pickled cucumber is a familiar object. A shoe, a hat, and a coat and vest, propelled by electricity, are often seen. This last object, the coat and vest, is so made that the driver sits inside it, with his head appearing above the collar, so that he appears to be wearing the great wooden, gaudily painted garment. It is as effective an advertisement of its kind as is to be seen in the city. Of course there are numerous horseless wagons with only the painted sign of the firm on their sides. Several newspapers use automobiles to deliver their papers. They are very much like those in use by The Gazette, which has the latest style in this kind of thing. But most merchants in this city are not content with the ordinary wagons. They want a circus procession of their own, as it were, and they get it to the extent of exhibiting autos of startling design and finish. The automobile has taken possession of this metropolis, indeed, and the commercial autos do not often break the law as to running too fast, although some of the newspaper delivery wagons, hurtling to railroad station or ferry, go at a good clip, too.

Actor Locke Back In New York.

Edward Locke, who was formerly in the Avenue stock company in Pittsburgh, has just returned to New York after 12 weeks in the Shubert stock company at the Grand opera house in Syracuse. Mr. Locke has played a large number of parts while away, and the Syracuse dramatic critics say he played them well. He will spend the next two weeks at his home in Pittsburgh, leaving New York on Saturday.

Erie Ferryboats Cleared of Bootblacks.

Bootblacks have been banished from the Erie ferryboats, and the men's cabins are more comfortable than they have been for many years. The noisy, squabbling boys were one of the nuisances of the boats, just as they are still on other lines. Of course the sending away of the "shiners" has aroused a lot of contradictory exclamations from passengers, but the general feeling is that the change is a good one.

Used to Thunderstorms.

The heavy thunderstorm last night shook up the animals in the menageries in Central park and the Bronx, but did not damage them seriously. It was feared that some of the smaller animals might be drowned by the flood, but all of them escaped. The lions and other large animals roared incessantly as the storm gathered, but were quieted in due time. Reminders of the tempest could be seen all over the city today. In places where excavations had been made for building operations there were lakes sometimes five and six feet deep, and work had to be stopped until the water could be pumped out. The atmosphere was oppressive all day, there being as much humidity as heat, and everybody had been suffering. More thunderstorms are said to be on the way, but New York is used to them now, and the threat does not disturb anyone.

Midsummer Coasting.

Among the exciting experiences that a New Yorker may have for 5 cents is to coast down the steep hill in Lexington avenue, from One Hundred and Second to One Hundred and Third streets, on an electric car. The trip is made all day long by the cars of the Lexington avenue line, and is such a regular performance that no one takes any particular notice of it. The hill is at an incline of at least 45 degrees, and it is watched very closely by flagmen at top and bottom. There is considerable dramatic preparation before the car starts on its downward trip. The vehicle stops and the signal man at the bottom gives a sign that all is right. Then the man at the top of the hill looks sadly at the car, the road, the sky and the houses on either side, and with an expression on his face that seems to say, "May heaven have mercy upon you!" he whispers to the motorman, "Go ahead" and down you go. Like looping the loop or shooting the shutes, one is at the bottom of the hill before there is time to wonder. As the car reaches the level and bowls along toward Harlem, one has the feeling of having successfully passed through a great peril and in a creditable manner. It gives you a pleasant thrill, and that, surely, is worth 5 cents.

Frohman's New Comedy.

Charles Frohman's first opening in this city will be at the Madison Square theater on August 25, when the new three-act comedy, "The New Clown," will be offered. This piece has had a long run in London.

Chicago Determined to Have the Best.

The aldermen from Chicago who have been inspecting the subway in this city, as well as looking at the different railway lines, with a view to profiting in their own city by their investigations, went on to Boston today. They will look at the subway and railways there, too. The aim is to get the best ideas in each town and make the Chicago system of rapid transit the best in the country. That is the idea, but you could not make a Bostonian believe in it, even if a modest New Yorker might allow that Chicago stands anywhere abreast of eastern cities.

Loaded Gold Like Kegs of Nails.

Money by the million goes out of this country on every sailing day of the big steamers, but it does not make the country poorer. More than $5,000,000 in gold went out today on the steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm. The gold bars were packed in 74 kegs. In the kegs was a quantity of sawdust, put there to prevent any loss of weight by the bars rubbing against each other. The shipping of the gold from the pier to the ship looked innocent enough. A lot of longshoremen carried the kegs on board, some of them swearing over the heaviness of "these kegs of nails." But there were two detectives watching every move, and the detectives were armed to the teeth, too. It is the regular way of shipping gold, and for that reason there is little fuss made about it.

Of Interest to Turfmen.

Horsemen, doubtless, will appreciate the significance of this paragraph, which appeared in one of the evening papers in this city today: "Some folk possibly think that Pittsburgh killed the ring on Malden. If it did, the ring did not show any signs of it, as the price against the horse soared. Yet there was some play on the horse, but not sufficient to show that the Pittsburgh batteries had been trained in that direction."

Prize for Women's Work.

The Professional Woman's league has decided to offer a series of prizes for superiority in certain departments at the forthcoming woman's exhibition at Madison Square garden. Awards will be made for the most lavishly decorated trade booth, for the prettiest corps of girls in a trade booth, for the most ingenious advertisement, and for the most consistent devotion to the occupations suggested to the delegates in the "street of all nations." The prizes probably will be cash, though the committee on space yesterday afternoon also considered the idea of giving medals and certificates.

Devery's Free Excursion.

"Big Chief" Devery is preparing a great excursion for the men, women and children of the Ninth district tomorrow. The destination will be Raritan, N. J. That it will be a largely attended affair is proved by the fact that 9,000 tickets have been issued, all free, and there will be more given out at the last moment tomorrow if any applications are made. On top of that anyone that appears even without tickets will not be shut off. That is Devery's way. One thousand pounds of roast beef, 1,000 pounds of corned beef, 600 heads of cabbage and 25 barrels of boiled potatoes will be placed on board the boats. In addition, there will be unlimited supplies of clam chowder, ice cream and cake. Three hundred cases of soft drinks will quench the thirst of the party. Eight barges towed by two steamers, the Colchester and Crystal Stream, and four tugs will leave the Atlas line pier, at the foot of West Twenty-fifth street, at 9:30 o'clock. The "Big Chief" himself, assisted by 100 business men and the captains of the districts, will be on hand early to welcome the excursionists. A vaudeville show has been arranged, and on each boat there will be unceasing music. Pianos are to be stowed away in every convenient corner.

Quest for Escaped Mountain Lion.

That puma which escaped from its cage in the Bronx zoo is still at large tonight. The curator of the zoological gardens said this afternoon that it wasn't for the intrinsic value of the beast, nor because it was feared that it would do any harm that such valiant efforts had been made to capture it, but because it was desirable to allay the unnecessary alarm of the people. In the snake house in the Bronx park a genuine Mexican was teaching several of the employes how to handle a lasso. They are going to keep at it until they master the art, which they think will come in handy, not only in recapturing the puma, but will also be useful in the fall when it is necessary to rope the deer and other animals preliminary to putting them in sheltered quarters for the winter.

Submarine Boat to Undergo Changes.

The submarine boat, Holland, which is being put into condition to show her qualities in the fall maneuvers of the navy at Fishers island, has been taken to Norfolk to have her electrical apparatus fixed and undergo some other alterations.

Crane's Panegyric on Yachting.

Yachting is one of the big amusements around New York and nearly all the star actors one meets on Broadway either have yachts of their own, or spend much of the summer on those owned by friends. William H. Crane is an enthusiastic yachtsman. These remarks are credited to him: "A yacht is good for anything and everything. It is good for the health, for the appetite, for the muscles. It is good for one's powers of expression, if, as generally is the case, one have three or four sailors who are both deaf and stupid. It will develop a voice and a fluency of speech in one season that will give points to an auctioneer or the captain of a canal boat. It is good for the consumption of cash. A yacht lies awake all night long devising ways for making its owners spend money the next morning."

Summer Beverage for the Fair Ones.

A "cherry cream" is a summer drink which is declared by drug clerks to be the most popular beverage they serve to New York femininity. I saw one made this afternoon, and it was done in this way: In a tall slender glass there was foundation of cherry syrup, which by a dexterous little twist had been made to mottle the ice cream on top of it. With rivulets of deep and pale rose scattered here and there, were little red islands in the shape of candied cherries, and on the top, like the foam of a crested wave, were piled billows of frothing whipped cream. The cream received as a finishing touch a dusting of powdered chocolate. And then, after the maiden ordering it had stirred the decoction gently with two straws, the rest was gurgling silence. Went Into Detail.

From the New York Tribune.

The addresses in Persian upon letters which go through the postoffice at Calcutta are often quaint and puzzling. An Indian paper recently translated one as follows: "If the Almighty pleases—Let this envelope, having arrived at the city of Calcutta, in the neighborhood of Caloontelah, at the counting house of Sirsjoodeen & Hahdad, merchants, be offered to and read by the happy light of my eyes, of virtuous manners, and beloved of the heart—Meean Shaikh Inayut Ally, may his life be long. Written on the tenth of the blessed Rumzan, Saturday in the year 1266 of the Hegira of our Prophet, and dispatched at Bearing. Having without loss of time paid the postage and received the letter, you will read it, and having abstained from food or drink, considered as forbidden to you, you will consider yourself to Jaunpoor, and you will know this be to a strict injunction."

OLD PARCHMENTS GIVEN TO KAISER

Sultan of Turkey Remembers His Good and Great German Friend.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Scientists, and in particular, Biblical students, throughout the Christian world have reason to congratulate themselves on the friendship which exists between the sultan and the German kaiser, and for which the latter has been so frequently abused. For, thanks to the anxiety on the part of Abdul Hamed to remain on good terms with the emperor, whom he regards as one of the principal obstacles to the partition of the Ottoman empire, he has dispatched to Berlin a collection of documents dating from the earliest times of the Christian era, and which are of well-night priceless value.

They have been immured for many hundreds of years in one of the domes of the Djami El Kebr mosque at Damascus. The main body of the mosque, which is famous throughout the world for its magnificent arcades, is not so old as this particular dome which, with two others was spared when the greater part of the original building was destroyed in the sixteenth century by fire.

For more than 50 years past the various European powers have been endavoring to obtain access to the treasures contained in the so-called Kabel el Hasne, or treasure dome, but without avail, as it was believed that among the documents preserved there were many relating to the Mohammedan faith which would have been defiled if even gazed upon by Christian eyes. It was not until the kaiser became so great a friend of the sultan that the latter consented to discover whether there were any of the sacred writings of the Mohammedan faith among the documents, and as soon as it had been ascertained that there were no such treasures there, the sultan gave orders to have the entire collection in the dome boxed up and dispatched to the German embassy at Constantinople, from whence, after a hasty inspection, they have been transmitted to Berlin in order to be photographed, decyphered and translated.

Valuable Ancient Parchments.

According to what I hear from the German embassy at Constantinople they comprise 25 parchment rolls of Psalms and 11 rolls of Pentateuch, written in ancient Greek and dating back to the third century and some of them even as far back as to the second century, numerous fragments of the Old and New Testaments in old Syrian, two of the complete Epistles of St. Paul, dating to the second century and written in the dialect spoken in Palestine at the time of Christ, a large number of documents in Arabic of an historical character and antedating by 200 or 300 years the Prophet Mohammed and coming down to a later day, a quantity of documents relating to the first crusades, including safe conducts given by the first crusader kings of Jerusalem to European and Levantine merchants.

To biblical students and to the scientific world in general, no such collection has become accessible since the days when near 50 years ago the now aged Archduke Rainer of Austria, quitting the beaten track of the tourist in Egypt, devoted himself to visiting the various remote Coptic monasteries, dotting the cases and borders of the Lybian desert, most of which had never been visited by any European for hundreds of years, and buying from each of them for ridiculously small sums of money the entire contents of their muniment rooms, documents which had remained untouched for centuries, in some instances back to the second and third centuries, and which they were incapable of reading, and of the value of which they were ignorant.

The archduke brought an entire ship load of these papyri and parchments back from Egypt and although the work of deciphering them by leading scientists of Europe has gone on uninterruptedly at Vienna until now, yet so vast in the quantity that the task is not yet complete.

Schoolmaster Who Is a Nobie.

Inasmuch as Lord Normanby is about to visit the United States it may be worth while to give a brief description of this peer of the realm who is one and the same time a marquis, a dignitary of the church and a schoolmaster, and who in the latter capacity has had the training of several American boys. Lord Normanby has converted his ancestral castle—a grand old pile by the name of Mulgrave castle—into a school, where, under his direction, boys are prepared for Eton, Harrow, Woolwich and other of the famous colleges.

Mulgrave castle is a superb old place, overlooking the North sea, and flanked by 1,500 acres of wood that slope down to the beach 500 feet below. The picture galleries contain many family portraits by celebrated painters, as well as some fine examples of Rubens, Gainsborough, Lely, Kneller and Reynolds, while costly bric-a-brac in the shape of exquisite bronzes and dainty Sevres abound on every side. The upper floors of the castle have been fitted up as great dormitories for the boys, whose schoolrooms, gymnasum, etc., are at the back and out of sight, in no way impairing the picturesque and romantic aspects of the castle, which have been described with enthusiasm by Charles Dickens, by Drayton and by many another star in the literary and poetic firmament of Great Britain.

I doubt if there is any school in England that can show so long a list of scions of the aristocracy who have received their preparation for the great English colleges. But although dukes such as the young duke of Leinster, the premier peer of Ireland, and many other of his fellow peers have received their first notion of school life at Mulgrave castle, yet there is a notable absence of all snobbery in the atmosphere of the place. "Side," and extravagance are quietly but firmly suppressed, and as an indication of the tone that prevails I may mention that the weekly pocket money of the young dukes, marquisses and earls is limited to three pence—that is to say, not even 10 cents of American money.

Too Sensitive for a Rector.

Lord Normanby, who is a most cheery and genial divine, and a bachellor, was formerly rector of a place called Wersley, near Manchester. But he did not keep the berth very long. For as soon as it became known in the ducy of Lancaster, and in the neighboring shires that there was a real marquis officiating as rector at Worsley, people came from far and wide for the purpose of availing themselves of his ecclesiastical services. Some stood in need of baptism, others of marriage, while yet others required nothing save a funeral service. The latter class predominated, and before long there was such an astounding influx of corpses into Worsley, brought thither for the purpose of being buried by a marquis, that Lord Normanby, who is an exceedingly sensitive man, was compelled to leave the place, and took to keeping school instead.

Lord Normanby has royal blood in his veins, one of his maternal ancestors having been a daughter of King James I. It was indeed through her that Mulgrave castle and the Mulgrave estates, extending over some 10,000 acres, passed into the possession of the house of Phipps, of which the marquis is the chief. His grandfather, converted from the earl of Mulgrave into the first marquis of Normanby, was lord lieutenant of Ireland and secretary of state, while the father of the present peer was in turn governor of Nova Scotia, of Queensland and New Zealand.

The schoolmaster peer is a canon of Windsor, and stands high in the regard of both King Edward and Queen Alexandra. Indeed, he is said to have been recently offered a bishopric, but to have declined it on the ground that it would entail his giving up his school at Mulgrave castle, to which he would, as a diocesan, be no longer able to give attention.

Hard on His Lordship.

From the New York Tribune.

Lord Hopetoun, who has just had an enthusiastic sendoff from the citizens of the commonwealth, promised, according to an English paper, to procure for an English friend an egg of the emu, the Australian ostrich. The emu's egg is of considerable size and this particular one happened to arrive when the consignee was away from home. His gamekeeper never saw such a colossal egg before, but he concluded that it had been sent for purposes of incubation. His report to his master ran thus: "In the absence of your lordship, I put it under the biggest goose I could find."

Queer Ground for Pardon.

From the Baltimore American.

To deny that Jersey justice, stern as it is, is destitute of all sentiment is to do it a great wrong. A housebreaker in state prison there was recently pardoned in order that he might go to Germany to get a fortune he had inherited there. It may be that the reasons for his pardon were on moral as well as sentimental grounds, the fortune being looked on as permanent reformation.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 29.—Capt. Clarke and his "classy" players made their second appearance at Washington park, Brooklyn, today, for a series of four games with the Hanlonites, and succeeded in administering the worst defeat to the Brooklyns that they have received this season, notwithstanding the champions' long jump from St. Louis.

The way the Pirates started after Hughes, who essayed to pitch for Brooklyn, gave evidence that Clarke and his band intend to make up for their defeats by Patsy Donovan's henchmen in St. Louis.

They opened on Hughes in the first inning, seven men going to bat, and by good, clean and successive hitting scored four runs and followed it up in the third inning by making two more, when "Doc" Newton replaced Hughes in the box for Brooklyn. For three innings Newton held his own, but in the seventh they started after him and by good hitting piled up eight more runs.

Fine Work by Philippe.

Phillippe, on the other hand, pitched a superb game, Irwin being the only Brooklynite that could make any impression on his work. His support in the field was of the best. The hits made off him were well scattered, and but for errors by himself and Conroy in the eighth inning Brooklyn would have been shut out.

Every man on the Pittsburgh team got one or more hits except Conroy and O'Connor. Wagner and Beaumont each got four. The Pirates made in all 19 hits for a total of 27 bases.

Tannehill and Kitson officiated as umpires in place of Power. Tannehill gave satisfaction, but Kitson was off in a couple of decisions, for which he was hooted.

Hughes had trouble in the first inning finding the plate and Clarke walked. Beaumont put up a Texas leaguer back of Dahlen. Leach hit for two bases, putting Clarke on third. Wagner was hit by Hughes.

Pirates Score at Will.

Kitty Bransfield pushed a single over second and Clarke and Leach romped home. Wagner scored on Ritchey's nicely placed single. Conroy sacrificed and Bransfield scored, making four runs, more than enough to win the game.

The third inning saw the finish of Mr. Hughes. Wagner doubled and Bransfield tripled and completed the circuit on a bad throw. Ritchey, Conroy and O'Connor were easy outs in this inning.

In the seventh inning they started after Newton and before the inning was over scored three more runs on singles by Wagner and Bransfield and Ritchey's double, which brought in two runs.

Beaumont Bats Well.

Conroy went out on an easy one to second. Ritchey took third on the play and scored on a wild pitch. Capt. Clarke again got a free pass in the eighth inning and stole second, making third on a poor throw. Clarke came home on Beaumont's single. Leach and Wagner singled, Beaumont scoring the second run in this inning.

The ninth inning was productive of more successive hitting. Philippe, Clarke and Beaumont singled. Leach brought Philippe and Clarke home on a double. Wagner was an easy out at first, Beaumont scoring on the play, this making three runs and ending their hard hitting.

Brooklyn's single run came in the eighth inning, when Sheckard beat out a slow grounder and reached third on Philippe's bad throw to catch him off first. Keeler hit to Conroy, who muffed it, and Sheckard scored.

WAGNER'S SUSPENSION HAS BEEN LIFTED

Chairman Brush Telegraphed Manager Clark He Was Eligible to Play Again Yesterday.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Honus Wagner has been reinstated. He is now in good standing in the National league. His suspension was lifted yesterday just in time for Manager Fred Clarke to put him into the first game of the Brooklyn series.

Wagner was suspended in St. Louis by John T. Brush, chairman of the National League executive board, last Thursday, for his alleged bad conduct toward Umpire Brown. The suspension was for an indefinite period and when Chairman Brush saw what his action was doing toward weakening the champions he evidently reconsidered. His return to the fold will strengthen the Pirates greatly and it is expected they will win the majority of their games to be played in the east.

When Fred Clarke returned from luncheon in the Marlborough hotel yesterday afternoon he was handed the following telegram from Chairman Brush: "Fred Clarke, Captain Pittsburgh team, New York:

"Wagner is reinstated and eligible to play today. (Signed) JOHN T. BRUSH."

All the members of the Pittsburgh team were elated. When a representative of The Gazette, manager Harry Pulliam of the Marlborough shortly before midnight he refused to talk of the case, but simply said he was glad Wagner had been allowed to get back in the game again.

POWER HAS NOT RESIGNED.

Denied the Rumor That He Has Severed His Connection With Umpiring Staff.

There was a rumor current in Pittsburgh last night to the effect that Charles B. Power, one of the umpires of the National league, had resigned from the staff. Efforts to confirm the report were in vain here, as no one conversant with baseball affairs in the city appeared to know of the whereabouts of Mr. Power.

The New York representative of The Gazette, however, succeeded in locating Mr. Power in New York last night, and he denied emphatically that he had any intention of resigning. He did not reach New York yesterday until too late to officiate in the Pittsburgh-Brooklyn game, but will have charge of the indicator in the second game of the series this afternoon.

Umpire Power, while officiating in Boston last week, suffered a slight injury, which it was at first thought would keep him out of the game for several days. He is in good shape again, however, and would have umpired at Brooklyn yesterday had it not been for a misunderstanding with the secretary of the National league executive board.

TENNIS AND GOLF TOURNEY.

Pittsburgh Players Have Entered the Events Scheduled at Altoona.

Pittsburgh's strong athletic talent promises to be well represented in the annual open tournament of tennis and golf events of the Altoona Cricket club, beginning August 18, which carry with them the championship of Western Pennsylvania in some branches.

Clinton L. Childs, the amateur tennis champion of Western Pennsylvania, who is also well known as winner in New England tournaments, will go after the championship of this end of the state in tennis doubles with Dr. T. W. Stevens of Wilkinsburg as his partner.

Childs has just returned from the east, where he won an open tournament at Watch Hill, Mass., and defeated the state championship doubles because of the absence of his partner, Ralph McKittrick of St. Louis, in the Chicago Golf championships.

Ewing and Edwards of Pittsburgh will also be represented.

Homesteads Defeated Schaubs.

H. L. A. C. defeated the William Schaubs at Steel Works park, Homestead, yesterday in a rather interesting game. Score: R.H.E.

All-Cubans at Millvale.

Millvale has completed arrangements for the All-Cubans, which team will spear at Millvale Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week. They are a great card and good contests can be expected, as the Cubans have won the series from every team that they have met in this country.

BIKE RACES PREVENTED.

Butler Had an Accident Attempting to Ride on the Wet Track.

The bicycle races were again prevented by the weather last night. The wisdom of the management in refusing to attempt the motor-pace race on a wet track was demonstrated by an accident in the afternoon from which Nat Butler was fortunate to escape without serious injury.

Butler was starting out with his big pacing machine and was riding a little in front and high up on the bank at the turn, when his wheel slipped on the wet boards and he was hurled under the machine which paces the riders. Both machines went to the bottom in one grand tangle.

Butler, with the help of liniment and careful rubbing, will be able to go against Benny Monroe tonight. Monroe is also rather badly banged up as the result of a spill last week.

Tom Nelson, the star pace follower, who has been one of the sensations in the east, arrived yesterday and will be Butler's opponent in the 25-mile paced event on Saturday afternoon, the first matinee ever held at the new track.

RAIN STOPS THE TENNIS TOURNEY

SECOND DAY'S MATCH AT LONGWOOD WAS UNINTERESTING.

English Experts Continue to Win, but Their Matches Yesterday Were Devoid of Any Fine Work—Americans Withdraw from Singles.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONGWOOD, MASS., July 29. — The tennis at the Longwood Cricket club today was disappointing. Large crowds gathered to see the Englishmen, R. I. and H. L. Doherty, in what it was thought would be good matches. Both did some playing, winning their match in the eastern doubles in the morning, and H. L. Doherty in the afternoon defeating J. C. Neely in straight sets.

R. F. Doherty then came on the court and played a set and a half with Richard Stevens of New York, but rain put an end to the play for the day. Both Dohertys then withdrew from the tournament for singles and for the rest of the week will confine themselves to playing in the eastern doubles, in the hope of winning this event, so that they may meet the western champions, Collins and Waidner, at Newport next month.

In addition M. D. Whitman, the former American champion, also withdrew, so that with the exception of L. D. Ware and Holcombe Ward there is no first-class player left in this event.

Had both R. F. Doherty and M. D. Whitman remained in the tournament they probably would have met tomorrow. The first meeting of these two cracks will be played at Brooklyn next week for the Davis international trophy.

The principal match of the day was between H. L. Doherty and J. C. Neely. The American at times showed some ability to hold the foreigner, but as a rule he was outclassed.

The tournament in doubles began after the announcement of the drawings with a match in which the Doherty brothers defeated Storer Ware and N. P. Hallowell, Jr., in straight sets. They will have no set matches tomorrow. The other drawings for the eastern doubles championship were as follows:

First round—Horton and Codman vs. Warner and Tallant; R. D. and George L. Wrenn, Jr., vs. Merrill and H. H. Whitman; Sharples and Scott vs. Seaver and Pier; Keyes and Brown vs. Clothier and B. C. Wright; Atkinson and J. Codman vs. Perry and Blagden; Ware and Larned vs. Allen and Hoskins; Neely and Parger vs. Plimpton brothers.

An explanation of the withdrawal of the Dohertys and M. D. Whitman from the Longwood tennis singles was given out tonight. In the case of the former it was stated that as the Englishmen had come over to play in the international and national matches, they had nothing to gain by playing matches in the Longwood singles, as the national tournament it is necessary for them to win the eastern doubles, so they will reserve their strength for these matches. If they win the eastern doubles they will play at Newport against the western champions. Mr. Whitman withdraws, as he believes he is in form for the international event and does not care to exert himself in the Longwood matches.

Summary of today's play in singles:

Second round—E. W. Leonard beat W. L. Jennings 5—7, 7—5, 6—2, 6—4.

WEST PENN WILL BE FORCED TO CONTEST RIGHTS

Lutz & Schramm Co. Will Sue Railroad for Property Damages.

BIG DEAL IN VIRGINIA

Citizens National Bank Site to Be Sold at Auction—East End Houses Sold—Ft. Wayne Improvements Benefit Property Holders.

Relying on its right of eminent domain, the West Penn Railroad Company has begun razing the buildings of the Lutz & Schramm Company, a pickle firm of Allegheny. A force of men is dismantling the storage house of the company, which is a two-story brick structure. As soon as this is done another storage house, a two-story frame building, formerly used to store tanbark, will be razed. The firm is preparing to sue the railroad company for damages, and the matter is likely to be an interesting realty suit.

The trouble started over three months ago, when agents of the West Penn tried to buy that part of the Lutz & Schramm holdings for a right-of-way to Herr's island. The whole property faces about 518 feet in River avenue, near McFadden street, and extends back 230.5 feet to the West Penn tracks. The railroad survey makes it necessary to take only about 4,200 square feet from the east end of this plot, but the pickle company insists that it needs every foot of the room and that selling it to the railroad would damage it greatly. At first, when the railroad condemned the property, a bond of $75,000 was put up, but on an appeal this was increased to $150,000.

Bridge Work Progressing.

The Lutz & Schramm property lies between the plant of the Keystone White Lead works and that of the P. McGraw Wool Company. It is said that the railroad has been negotiating for the former property recently, and that the McGraw property is also to be acquired, although no offer has yet been made for it.

A large force of men has been at work for several weeks on the lower end of Herr's island, driving piles and making a big fill to connect with the bridge that will go across to the Lutz & Schramm property. This work is now well along and within a few weeks, it is said, the actual work of bridge building will begin if the suit does not interfere.

Gordon Smith of the Gordon-Smith Company left for Virginia last night to close up a deal for a plantation of 650 acres valued at $57,000. The property is situated on the border of North Carolina and was formerly owned by Fred Dillmuth, who conveys it to George N. Powell of this city. The plantation is used principally for tobacco cultivation, but has on it a large amount of valuable yellow pine timber.

Who Will Bid?

Considerable curiosity is being manifested among downtown business men at the probable outcome of the auction sale of the Citizens National bank property, at the southeast corner of Wood and Diamond streets. When the Citizens National consolidated with the Union Trust Company a short time ago, it was generally believed that its site would be transferred to H. C. Frick without delay, as by getting control of a majority of its stock he virtually controlled the property. That he will be the purchaser now is undoubted, for he owns the property in the rear and on the south side of the lot. The latter measures 25x60 feet and is improved with a two-story brick building. A well-posted broker said yesterday that the auction was a necessary legal formality to determine a value on the property before it can be sold.

Dudley S. Liggett has purchased from Andrew J. Lennox two new residences in the Nineteenth ward, for $16,000. The houses occupy a lot, 41x115 at the southwest corner of Haights avenue and Homer street. Both are of the reception hall type, containing 10 rooms with all modern conveniences. The purchase was made for an investment.

Allegheny Values Will Be Up.

The work of making ready for the elevation of the Ft. Wayne tracks in Allegheny, is progressing rapidly. West of Federal street the big wall is nearly completed for a considerable distance and near Sandusky street the same is true. The work is being watched with interest by real estate men, most of whom look for a sharp rise in values as soon as the project takes definite form before the eyes of the public. Properties along Stockton avenue, between Sandusky street and Sherman avenue, are in the opinion of many brokers sure to profit greatly by the change. With the railroad several rods nearer the street than now, these properties will be more desirable for residence purposes, but it is predicted that within two years after the work is completed, this section of Stockton avenue will be a business thoroughfare. With the new Union station and the new Allegheny General hospital, stimulus will be given to good buildings and it is not unlikely that investors who are even now picking up Stockton avenue properties will erect substantial business blocks.

Bigger Pumping Station.

Bids are being received in the office of Architect R. Maurice Trimble for the erection of an addition to the Allegheny pumping station in Howard street. The new addition will be about 50x100 feet and will greatly increase the capacity of the plant.

Architect T. H. Scott is taking bids on an automobile house for John S. Scully at the corner of Bellefield avenue and Bayard street.

PIG IRON PRICE WILL NOT SOAR BEYOND REACH

Manufacturers Inclined to Go Slow in Accepting New Orders.

UNCERTAINTY IS PASSED

United States Steel Corporation Does Not Desire Republic Company. Fight for Colorado Fuel and Iron Waxing More Bitter.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 29.—The opinion is expressed in iron and steel circles that prices of pig iron will not reach a level threatening to the general situation. Manufacturers realize that inflated prices will disturb the equilibrium of the market, and for this reason are exercising considerable conservatism in accepting new orders. A representative of a large southern iron concern today said that the price of $17 a ton, established by a number of producers, would be maintained, and that consumers could have all the iron they desired for delivery in the first half of 1903 at this figure. Spot iron is scarce and prices erratic.

Rogers, Brown & Co. have received the following from their Cincinnati correspondent:

Increased activity is noted everywhere. The uncertainty in the minds of consumers has largely disappeared as to the advisability of buying pig iron for the first six months of 1903. Many of the most prominent concerns have shown faith in the future by contracting heavily, and their example is being gradually followed by the smaller users. A considerable amount of southern iron for delivery, beginning in January, has been sold on a basis of $16 50, Birmingham, for No. 2 foundry. It was stated that the price was advanced to $17, but opportunities were offered for favorite consumers to buy at the old price until the latter part of the week. Quotations were sent out that the offers must be accepted on the same date, and by this means considerable tonnage was rounded up. While it is stated that there are liberal offerings of No. 2 at $17, a number of producers prefer to sell at that figure, thinking that the demand will be so large that a higher price will be obtainable somewhat later. The coke situation is not improving as rapidly as was expected. Shipments from Pocahontas and New river districts are extremely limited.

Hot Fight for Colorado.

Concerning the Colorado Fuel and Iron contest, Chairman Osgood is quoted as follows:

"It is absurd for Mr. Gates to say that he has control of Colorado Fuel. Neither can we claim absolute control. One of the bitterest fights ever waged will result before we are ousted from the management. The stories that we are short of the stock are malicious. We have never sold a share short. We believe we should not pay dividends out of surplus, and for that reason we discontinued them at the last meeting. Our company is in excellent condition, and we are going to make excellent returns to our stockholders; but we believe in being conservative. There is a hot fight before the Gates crowd before we shall turn over the management to them."

Republic Company Not Wanted.

It was currently reported in the financial district today that the United States Steel Corporation has made a bid for the Republic Iron and Steel Company. A representative of the steel corporation denied all knowledge of such a deal. He pointed out that United States Steel would gain little by securing control of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, as the products of that company are confined to iron and the products of the combine to steel.

Delay in Bond Litigation.

It was definitely stated today that the hearing in the United States Steel Corporation case has been postponed until September 15. The delay is due to the absence of several members of the court. Representatives of the steel corporation hoped the case would be tried some time next month.

As is generally known, the Bergen suit, even if decided adversely to the corporation, cannot restrain the issue of $50,000,000 in bonds, which it is proposed to issue for improvements, if the Hodge case is decided against the corporation, it would be restrained from issuing the $50,000,000 additional bonds.

Atchison's Fine Condition.

The report of the earnings of the Atchison for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1902, was issued today. The showing is the best made in the history of the company. Gross earnings amounted to $59,147,085, an increase of $4,672,262 over the results of the previous fiscal year; net earnings were $25,293,674, an increase of $3,081,796.

The Copper Situation.

There is a growing impression in trade circles that important developments are pending in the copper situation. There recently has been considerable buying of Amalgamated Copper by interests who are in a position to be well informed in regard to that stock. There is a tendency in some quarters to look upon this buying as something more than a speculative move, and to believe that negotiations are under way to restore harmony to the copper trade. There are reports that Senator Clark has lately been a buyer of 10,000 shares of Amalgamated, and that his purchases are for more than a turn of a few points.

August Disbursements.

Dividend and interest disbursements during August will aggregate $61,042,822, as compared with $57,439,05 in the corresponding month of last year, and $139,462,383 during the current month. Railroad companies next month will disburse in dividends $18,298,625; industrial corporations, $18,037,314; traction and lighting companies, $2,276,069, and mining companies, $1,842,701, a total of $38,454,709. Dullness Characterizes Wall Street

SPECULATORS TRY TO FORCE SOME TRADING

Low Priced Stocks Pushed Forward as Bait to the General Public.

GOLD EXPORT PUZZLING

Restricted Volume of Our Exports Leaves Small Supply of Exchange Bills for Remittance—Money Is Declining Abroad, Rising Here.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 29.—Today's stock market did not show as much positive weakness early as was the case yesterday, and there was even some attempt to invite a revival of speculation for the rise. But this proved abortive, and the tone of the market became decidedly weak late in the day. The attempt to revive speculation turned to a few low-priced stocks, apparently on the supposition that a campaign in these stocks would prove more attractive to the general public than in the high-priced stocks. The movement exhausted itself after an advance of something over a point in Reading and in Chicago Great Western, with a slight sympathetic effect in allied stocks. News of disorders in the mining region seemed to be construed as evidence that the coal miners' strike was in course of disintegration. No definite announcement was made of further engagements of gold for export, but it was generally believed that at least $2,000,000 more will go out on Thursday.

Movement Is Puzzling.

The movement continues to puzzle observers more or less. Large obligations to foreigners are known to be maturing constantly. It is also clear enough that the resricted volume of our exports has left but a scanty supply of exchange bills for remittance. For instance, our exports since July 1 from Atlantic ports in bushels have been of wheat and flour 13,704,000, compared with 19,034,800 for the corresponding period of last year, of corn 372,300, compared with 7,650,000, and of oats 151,100, compared with 3,234,200. But there is the same discrepancy in the money rates here and those abroad that there was when these foreign loans were negotiated. Money is now declining both in Berlin and in Paris and is rising here, without availing to check the calling home of credits, which necessitates the gold shipments.

Rock Island Is Blamed.

The renewal of the feverish tone of Rock Island had much to do with the undertone of weakness of stocks. The delay in the formal announcement of the details of the plan gives rise to some apprehension of changes. The criticism of the plan turns on the feature which proposes to convert stock into foreclosure bonds. Late in the day the bears were encouraged by the failure of various attempts to put up prices to make a determined attack under which the market yielded sharply. The scramble amongst the room shorts to cover at the close and the resulting sharp rallies revealed the professional character of this attack. The market closed active and extremely irregular. A feature of the day was the persistent absorption of Missouri Pacific at all levels. Colorado Fuel was notably weak.

The activity in the bond market was confined to some of the convertible issues. Total sales par value $3,103,000. United States bonds were unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day 738,090 shares.

Rock Island takes on a big advance, but declines to near the opening price.

Missouri Pacific is absorbed as fast as offered and 62,300 shares are sold at slight advance.

Colorado Fuel and Iron slumps badly on sales of 18,200 shares.

United States Steel suffers a slight decline, and sales were, common, 13,200, and preferred, 2,900.

The whole character of the market continues professional in the extreme.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says: A speculative sentiment continued adversely influenced in Wall street yesterday, and at the close of the day, under a well-organized raid by the trading element, prices declined rapidly, catching some stop orders on the way and forcing some little liquidation of weakly-margined accounts. In forcing the reactions the leading element used with more effect than of late a report of heavy gold shipments to be arranged today. The amount of such engagements, according to the rumors, ran as high as $5,000,000. This is believed to be an over estimate, and, it is thought, will represent more nearly the shipments of the week than those of Thursday. Probably some gold, possibly upward of $2,000,000, will be taken for export today.

* * *

Although the principal reactions occurred in the last hour, the market was "wabbly" and uncertain throughout the entire session. In the early dealings—and, for that matter, until the close—the same forces which worked depression in the market of Monday exerted an influence. This was the consideration of the Rock Island stock-wavering plan and the unfavorable reception which it has been accorded by the financial interests. The feeling of disfavor was not allayed by the statement that the company was preparing to finance its own plan without syndicate or bankers, dividing the proceeds among the inner circle. If no money is needed the query instantly occurred to Wall street, Why is the plan necessary?

* * *

The late selling was credited to Frank W. Savin, who offered stocks liberally throughout the entire list. Reports of selling by the Gates pool were current and were believed to have excellent foundation in fact. The volume of business showed a marked curtailment, and interest, even in the early trading, shifted widely. Some attempt was made to move up the anthracite coal shares in the midday dealings, but the movement met with no general response. Norfolk & Western, the "marked card" of the day before, was neglected, while an active "in-and-out" movement in Missouri Pacific was stimulated.

* * *

Decreased earnings for June reported by the Canadian Pacific and the Atchison railroads received some attention and was thought to have some unfavorable effect on the market, but it was pointed out that the decreases are compared with heavy gains in the same periods in the preceding year. Canadian Pacific showed a decrease of $274,095 in net, though the gross earnings increased $477,929. The Atchison company showed a decrease of $161,152 in gross earnings and $240,153 in the net. The street was in a mood to magnify the effects of these decreases, probably because the officials of both railroads have recently been rushing into print with statements of their heavy traffic.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, July 29.—In the Boston market wool continues to improve in value and in the wool growing districts prices have also been advanced. Trade here is very fair and many houses look for still higher prices. No wool is being sent here on consignment at present. The fleece are exceedingly firm and in Ohio and other fine wool districts values are up to the Boston level. In Montana the new clip is selling very rapidly, buyers expecting to see the trade soon out of the growers' control. Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Coffee futures opened steady, with prices 5 points higher to 5 points lower, the advance being in July on covering demand, inspired by the firmer Brazil markets. Bearish European market news and very heavy primary port receipts prompted liquidation in other months and more or less selling by the room for a turn. Soon after the opening call the list stiffened up on fair demand from bulls. European buying and a movement of shorts for profits, and in the absence of selling orders of note the market ruled steady to firm for the rest of the session, prices slowly working upward until at the close the list was net unchanged to 10 points higher, with the tone steady. Trade was slow, amounting to only 20,000 bags for the day, including spot coffee, 5,300. September, 5.35@5.45c; December, 5.25c; March, 5.40@5.45c; June, 5.50c.

Sugar, raw steady; fair refining, 2¾c, centrifugal, 96 test, 3¾c; molasses sugar, 2¾c; refined steady.

FIGHT ON IRON TARIFF.

The German Government Carries Its Point in Committee.

BERLIN, July 29.—The government succeeded in getting the pig iron clauses of the tariff bill adopted by the tariff committee of the reichstag today without amendment, but only after strenuous opposition and long debate.

Amendments providing for reduction and abolition of the duty on pig iron were offered. The Prussian minister of commerce, Herr Moeller, assured the Liberals that their fear of outside competition in the iron trade, owing to the retention of the German tariff, were utterly groundless.

NEW KEENER SAND POOL STILL HOLDS OUT HOPE

The new Keener sand pool on Big Knot run, Ritchie county, is showing up a little better than when the last two wells were completed and proved dusters in the Keener sand. Mallory Bros. & Co.'s test on the John Freeland farm, located 500 feet southwest of the Three Joes Oil Company's No. 1, on the Elroy Wagner farm, produced 400 barrels the first 24 hours after it was drilled into the Keener sand. The development now shows two producers and two dusters in the Keener sand.

The Three Joes Oil Company's gusher has declined to 400 barrels a day. There will be no other wells due in this district for more than a week.

The Bonds Creek district, in the same county, is coming to the front. The Cleveland & Marietta Oil Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the Thomas E. Dye farm and has a good producer. The well produced 130 barrels the first 18 hours after it had been drilled into the Keener. The location is 690 feet southeast of the same company's No. 1 on the same farm.

The Associated Producers Oil Company's No. 1 on the William Campbell farm is holding up at 150 barrels a day. So far this development has three producers and no dusters.

In the Cairo district, the Creed & Pierpoint Oil & Gas Company has drilled in its No. 3 on the N. Rollins farm and has a show for a 25-barrel producer in the sand.

Looks Like a Good Wildcat.

On Robinson run, Doddridge county, the Eastern Oil Company has drilled its wildcat on the Daniel Smith farm deeper and the well is reported flowing at the rate of 7 barrels an hour from the Big Injun. It is quite probable that this well is the forerunner of a new Big Injun pool.

North of Center Point the Carter Oil Company is on the sand at its No. 4 on the Daniel Harris farm. This is a new development that has been attracting some attention for the past two months.

In Ferguson district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the Genine Robinson tract into the Gordon and has a show for a producer. It is still drilling.

In the northeast end of the same development, the South Penn has completed its test on the E. R. Cunningham farm and has a duster in 41 sands.

The same company's No. 5 on the Jacob Cunningham farm has been completed and is producing 350 barrels a day from the Gordon.

In the lower end of the development, Miller Bros. have shot their No. 1 on the E. A. Talkington farm and increased its production to 400 barrels a day.

In the new Freeport district, Greene county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed a test on the King heirs' farm and has a 30-barrel producer.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn has drilled its test on the David Mason farm through the Gordon and has a 50-barrel producer.

The Eclipse Oil Company has drilled in its No

The Local Stock Market Was Extremely Dull and Rather Heavy

SALES SMALL AND CHANGES WERE NARROW

Steel Issues Opened Firmer, but on Light Trading Worked Lower.

FIRE PROOFINGS EASIER

Coal Issues Dull, but Steady—Window Glass Intensely Dull, but Firmer—Brewing Shares Declined Fractionally in Spite of Bull Talk.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was duller than it has been in ten days or two weeks. In fact, during a considerable portion of the session not a sale or quotation was posted, the brokers merely sitting around and swapping yarns. At the opening the tone was fairly steady to firm, but toward the close became rather heavy in sympathy with the east, and prices showed an inclination to work lower. Generally, however, the net changes were small and the losses unimportant. The steel issues showed signs of firmness at the opening, particularly Crucible and United States common, the former selling at 86 and the latter at 40¼. Trading, however, was extremely light and just before the close the United States issues looked quite weak. The common had sold but 50 shares during the entire day at 40½, which was a gain of ⅛, when near the windup it was offered down ⅛ to 39⅝ with only 39½ bid. The preferred did not sell until near the close, when 100 went at 89¾ and the seller offered 500 more at that price. Later regular lots offered at 89¾ with but 89⅛ bid. Crucible Steel was dull and ¼ lower at 21¼ for 125 shares, while the preferred lost ⅛ at 85¼@86 for 150, the close being at the low point. Fire Proofing common was very dull and ¼ lower at 32½@32¾, less than 100 shares changing hands. The preferred was more active, over 300 shares selling at 39¾@40, a loss of ¼. The coal issues were dull but steady and practically unchanged. Pittsburgh common sold 500 shares at 208¾, while the preferred sold but 65 at 90½@90, a loss of ½. The prospect of the River Coal Company entering the Rails fields did not affect the shares of either. The statement is made, practically officially, that the Pittsburgh Coal Company is not shipping a pound of coal to the anthracite territory more than its regular contracts call for, and that it will not do so. So the prospective benefit to the company through the strike is a myth. Window Glass common was exceedingly dull—only 50 shares selling, but quite steady and firm, advancing at the close to 61 bid with 61½ asked. Brewing shares were less active and a fraction off. It is semi-officially stated that the dividend on the common stocks will be increased at the next meeting, or there will be a big row in the directorate. The company is said to be closely approaching the $2,000,000 mark with its surplus and some of the officials are alleged to have determined that a portion of this sum shall be distributed at the next dividend period if they have to adopt drastic measures. Philadelphia Company common was quite active and ¼ higher at 49, while the preferred was dull but firm at 50. In the trust stocks American Trust was strong and $5 higher at $128, while Pennsylvania Trust declined $2 to $230. Westinghouse Electric seconds were less active, weak and ¼ lower at 105⅝. Bonds were ignored in the sales and very quiet in the quotations.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

There was not a trade in the bond department.

Crawford & Eberman continued buyers of Federal National bank.

The first trades noted were in National Fire Proofing common at 32½.

At the opening Mustin bid 90 for 1,000 shares Pittsburgh Coal preferred.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer were on both sides of Fire Proofing preferred.

Near the close Hill & Co. offered 500 United States Steel preferred at 89⅝.

During the day 24 stocks were dealt in and of that number 16 sold without a fluctuation in price.

Masten & Co. sold 10 Pennsylvania Trust Company to Robinson Bros. at 230, a decline of $2 since last week.

Several members of the bench are abroad so the hearing of the United States Steel case has been postponed until September 19.

Robinson Bros. were the chief sellers of Philadelphia Company issues and the largest buyers of Westinghouse Electric seconds.

Actually an "inside house" got openly in the National Fire Proofing market yesterday, Hoag & Grier buying 10 shares of the preferred at 40.

There was only one trade in Window Glass common during the day, Miller getting 50 shares at 60¾ from Robinson Bros. during the first half hour.

For some time Hill & Co. have been the sole buyers of American Trust Company, but yesterday they kept out, allowing Doty & Sutton to get 10 from Robinson Bros. at 128 and then turn around and sell 20 to Miles at 128.

Hill & Co. were the sole sellers of River Coal preferred. They bought 100 Pittsburgh Coal common and 50 preferred, selling 10 of the latter. Otherwise they did not get into the coal market. They were, however, the largest buyers of Brewing Company stocks.

A private telegram to a local brokerage house said: "J. P. Morgan will return shortly full of big schemes and consolidations. His return will be celebrated by a settlement of the coal strike and a big rise in United States Steel. The earnings, I hear, from the United States Steel plants certainly warrant something like a dividend this time."

The Pressed Steel Car Company reports orders aggregating 30,000,000 cars, consisting of orders for 3,000 Baltimore & Ohio and 1,000 Pennsylvania railroad cars on old orders and about 1,000 cars for different roads and independent car owners. Since last January they have secured orders for 3,000 cars, 2,000 of which were for the Pennsylvania railroad and 1,000 for the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. The estimated output for the combined plants of the company will reach nearly 3,000 cars a month. The last statement of President F. N. Hoffstot to the stockholders gave the earnings of the company, estimated, at 22 per cent on the capitalization.

President Osgood of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company says: "It is absurd for Mr. Gates to say he has control of Colorado Fuel; neither can we claim absolute control. One of the bitterest fights ever waged will result before we are ousted from the management. Stories that we are short of the stock are malicious. We have never sold a share short. We believed we should pay dividends out of the surplus and for that reason discontinued them at the last meeting. Our company is in excellent condition and we are going to make excellent returns to our stockholders. We believe in being conservative. There is a hot fight ahead for the Gates crowd before we shall turn over the management to them. Harris Gates & Co. sold a big block of Colorado Fuel at present the better." We are not saying a word but are just sawing wood. We shall do our talking after the books close July 31."

A director of the company says the Gates party will keep every share of their holdings if Osgood wins, but there is no likelihood of his winning.

A group of Chicago and Pittsburgh capitalists have made great fortunes out of their industrial enterprises in the past four years, and instead of continuing it in these industries, or investing their winnings in real estate or government bonds, they have, as a rule, put their funds into railway stocks. Many of the shaken some dry bones, bought up some railway systems, threatened to buy up others and generally kept their money in the market, thus giving it the benefit of a far greater amount of liquid capital than it has ever had before. Concentrating all this capital, and the restless energy which created it, and still exists as such on the limited list of railway stocks, results, naturally, in a great appreciation of values. No new lines of railroad of consequence have been built in 10 years, or even 15 years, so that the growth of population and traffic has thrown upon existing lines, overwhelming them with commodities, merchandise and passengers. Added to this, and, perhaps, as a result of this, rates have been advanced and maintained as never before. This makes a remarkably strong railway position.—Watson & Gibson.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I hear Wisconsin Central is to be moved up. Insiders are bullish on Amalgamated Copper.

Developments of the past few days have checked the bullish feeling which was growing.

It is argued that operations such as the readjustment of Rock Island affairs will not tend to down speculation until they are consumed.

With our small bank reserves and large loans gold exports in any volume cannot be viewed with anything but a feeling of uncertainty as to the future of the money market.

The outlook in our mind favors the purchase of stocks, particularly the medium and low-priced standard issues. The high-priced varieties are too much of a rich man's gamble.

The five point rise in St. Louis & San Francisco issues came quicker than I expected. They will go higher. The buying comes from the right people and the stock is scarce.

The strong feature of this market is that so many think prices high. There has not yet been overspeculation by the public and on all recessions of any size I think the market safe to buy in the special stocks. Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific, Atchison and Illinois Central. I look for much higher prices.

Amalgamated Copper preferred is going up. It will certainly earn three figures. Tennessee Coal and Iron and the Steels should be bought. There will be renewed activity in the soft chalers and please take hold of Erie. Something will be doing presently. Peoples Gas, Louisville & Nashville and Manhattan Transit going higher.—Josephs.

MEDAL WINNERS TO HOLD REUNION

SOLDIERS HONORED BY CONGRESS TO MEET IN PHILADELPHIA.

Greatest Reward in Any Army of World and Ranks Higher Than Victoria Cross. Wearers Are Mostly Privates—Recent Grants.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—"The Medal of Honor Legion," formed of men who have been granted by congress the medal of honor for personal heroism, will hold their convention in Philadelphia on November 6 and 7.

Some 200 members, representing every state in the union, will attend.

Included in the program is a concert at the Academy of Music and a banquet at the Union league. A committee of 25 prominent citizens is now being formed to join in with the resident Medal of Honor men in extending to the guests the hospitality of the city.

The medal of honor granted by the congress of the United States for personal heroism is the most valuable acknowledgment of military service in the world. It ranks even higher than the Victoria Cross of England. The congress medal can only be won by some deed, not only of great bravery, but entirely outside of the ordinary duties of the soldier.

An average of less than one medal to each regiment engaged in the civil war has been granted by the government. The navy has captured its full share, but even the gallant tars have failed to obtain an average of one to each ship afloat. Rank never counts in the distribution of the high honors. Hence, the largest number by far of the Medal of Honor men come from the ranks. Of course, there are many officers among them—Lieut.-Gen. Miles, Maj.-Gen. O. O. Howard and several others. The latest medals awarded were to Gen. Horace Porter and Gen. Fred Funston. Several members of congress wear the medal, among whom are Senator Matthew Stanley Quay and Gen. Harry Bingham.

MORO SLAVER PUNISHED.

One of a Party That Killed a Native and Kidnaped His Wife and Daughter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—The records of a number of courts-martial in the Philippines have been received at the war department.

One of the cases touched the practice of slavery carried on by the Moros. A native named Manupad was charged with being one of a party of three which hacked and cut to death another native named Sulao near Burang, Mindanao. After murdering Salao the three natives bound and carried away the dead man's wife, son and daughter and sold them as slaves. Manupad was sentenced to confinement at hard labor for life.

A native named Villegas, presidente of Santo Tomas, Batangas, having taken the oath of allegiance to the United States, repeatedly violated that oath by communicating with Col. Hernandez, commanding the local insurgent forces in the field, furnishing intelligence of the strength and movements of the United States troops. He also collected taxes which he furnished to the insurgent leader. The presidente was sentenced to 20 years' confinement at hard labor.

A Manila paper published June 19 has quite a long account from Catbalogan, Samar, indicating that the people of that island threatened trouble because Gen. Guevarra, late insurgent leader, was not made governor. It is stated that Samar is keeping up its reputation as the storm center of the archipelago, in peace as well as war. Gov. Wright refused to weaken and Llorante was inaugurated according to the official program.

OHIO LEADING IN THE OUTPUT OF CLAY WORKS

East Liverpool Pottery Making One of the Country's Great Industries.

KEYSTONE STATE IS NEXT

Imports of That Class of Goods Much Less in Value Than the Home Product—Manganese Ore Shipped in and Mined Here.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.

A bulletin just issued by the geological survey contains information about the pottery and iron ore industries of the country.

Pottery increased in value from $19,798,570 in 1900 to $22,462,860 in 1901, a gain of $2,665,290, or 13.46 per cent. The widespread character of this industry is well known, and is illustrated by the fact that every state and territory, except Alaska, is represented in the reports. Hawaii appears for the first time.

Ohio is still the leading state in point of variety and value of clay goods made, producing to the value of $21,574,085 in 1901, or 19.58 per cent of the total product of the country. Pennsylvania ranks next, with an output of $15,321,742, or 13.90 per cent of the total. The great pottery-producing centers of Trenton, N. J., and East Liverpool, O., produced respectively in 1901, 23.68 per cent and 23.62 per cent, or combined, 47.30 per cent of the total pottery output of the whole country. The combined value of their product was $10,626,350.

The net imports of pottery in 1901 were valued at $9,004,323, which, added to the domestic product, made a total consumption of $31,468,183, of which the imports were 28.61 per cent and the domestic product 71.39 per cent.

The total production of manganese ores in the United States during the year 1901 amounted to 11,995 long tons, valued at $116,722, as compared with 11,711 long tons, valued at $100,289, in 1900. The increase of the production of 1901 was only 224 tons or about two per cent, but the average value per ton increased from $8 52 in 1900 to $9 73 in 1901 or $1 21 per ton.

The amount of manganese ores imported in the United States during the year 1901 was 165,722 long tons, valued at $1,486,573, or $8 97 per ton, as compared with imports of 256,252 long tons, valued at $2,042,361 or $7 97 per ton, in 1900.

The United States is the largest producer of steel in the world, and in the production of this steel a large amount of ferro-manganese and spiegeleisen is used. In 1901 the foreign ferro and spiegel were attractively low in price, so that a number of the larger companies preferred to import such manganese metal as might be required, rather than to manufacture it. This will account for the falling off in imports of manganese ores in 1901.

SLOVAKS CANNOT LAND.

Immigration Officials Hold They Came Under Contract to Dig Coal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—(Special.)—Assistant Secretary Ailes and Commissioner Sargent of the immigration bureau today heard an attorney who desired to appeal from the decision of the commissioner of immigration at Baltimore declining to admit to this country four recently arrived Slovaks, the ground being that they had come under contract to work in the coal fields of Pennsylvania, where the strike is in progress. They were bound for Osceola, Pa., and landed with about $11 each. The hearing resulted in a decision to sustain the officials at Baltimore, which means the deportation of the immigrants.

The facts brought out were that the four men had received letters from relatives in the coal regions saying they could get work if they came to this country. The immigration officials believe that the relatives of the men were influenced to write the letters by employers. Therefore, the men are to be excluded from this country on the ground that they are under contract.

EFFECT OF BRYAN'S VISIT.

Chairman Babcock Anticipates Increased Republican Majority in the Next Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—(Special.)—"We will carry the next house by an emphatic majority, holding our own in the east and gaining some seats in the middle west," said Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional committee to the writer today. "The harmony efforts of the Democrats have benefited us very much. I hope they will continue. Mr. Bryan's recent visit to the east did us a lot of good. I trust he will call often in these parts. He succeeded admirably in raising the old specter which some of his colleagues hoped had been buried.

"The appeal of Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Hill for harmony threatened a movement to alienate from us some of the gold Democratic vote which we had received in 1900, 1898 and 1896. That fear is effectually dissipated, I think. Mr. Bryan's letter following Mr. Cleveland's address before the Tilden club opened the eyes of the eastern Democrats to the true situation in the Democratic party and to the fact that the old Chicago and Kansas City crowd still are in the saddle and determined to dictate to the Democracy of the country."

CLAYTON EXPLAINS.

State Department Considers Ambassador's Answer to Penrose's Charges Satisfactory.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—The last charges against Ambassador Powell Clayton, submitted to the state department by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, in the shape of affidavits that he held mining stock in his own name, stand already denied by the ambassador, and the statement is made that the state department regards them as having been satisfactorily answered.

The purport of the ambassador's statement was that the stock referred to was held by him in trust and did not belong to him.

CARNEGIE GAVE HER GLAD HAND

THE WIFE OF A HEATER IS SHOWN HONORS AT DUNFERMLINE.

Mrs. James S. Horner of Braddock, While Visiting at Old Home, Was Made Much of by Laird of Skibo, Who Introduced Her to the Nobility.

In a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Horner, wife of James S. Horner of No. 906 Washington avenue, Braddock, who is visiting at her old home in Dunfermline, Scotland, the democratic spirit of Andrew Carnegie is again illustrated.

Mrs. Horner's husband is a heater in the 40-inch mills of the Homestead Steel works, and for many years was a heater in the Edgar Thomson Steel works. While employed in these plants, like many other workmen, he became acquainted with Mr. Carnegie when the latter made his tours of the plants under his control.

The letter referred to was received by Mr. Horner's daughter, Lillian. In it her mother tells of the reception by Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie on July 16, at Dunfermline, when Mr. Carnegie laid the cornerstone of the free baths building which he donated to the town, and at the banquet which followed.

Mrs. Horner states that she accompanied her cousin, John Weir, who is chief magistrate of the town, and rode with him in the third carriage in the parade previous to the corner stone laying ceremonies. When Mr. Carnegie learned that she was from Braddock, and the wife of one of his old workmen, he introduced her to the Earl of Elgin and Lord Bruce, the latter a direct descendant of Robert Bruce of Scotland, and Lady Bruce, as his friend and countrywoman.

Mrs. Horner says that at the banquet Lady Bruce occupied a seat between Mr. Carnegie and herself. Mr. Carnegie, in his address at the banquet table, told how pleased he was to see her, and paid her such high compliments that the country people looked at her through tears.

Mrs. Horner has visited many places near her old home, including the estate of the Earl of Murray, the tomb of Robert Bruce and the old abbey cemetery, where her grandparents are buried.

ON TRIAL FOR MASSACRE.

One of the Imprisoned Filipinos Makes Complete Confession.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—Manila papers received at the war department give an account of the beginning of the trial of 23 natives in the island of Mindoro who were charged with killing four Americans. From one of the 23 men arrested a partial story of the massacre has been obtained.

The four Americans approached the shore of Mindoro in a boat, and as soon as they landed the natives attacked them, putting all to death and mutilating them. The bodies then were put in the boat and cast adrift. The finding of the boat by the Americans led to the discovery of the crime, and confessions from some of the natives gave such facts as have been obtained.
